have been considered in the selection of this student for the award."

Cadet Lieutenant Thomas J. Onderko, mechanical engineering student from Hazleton, was selected for the Outstanding Flight Leader Citation because he has.. .."Maintained within the flight the highest standard of performance and the highest level of esprit-de-corp. His devotion to duty has outstanding and has exceeded the minimum requirements of his position within the corp."

Cadet Lieutenant High E. McGeehan, an Arts & Letters freshman from Hazleton, won the Outstanding Freshman Cadet Citation... "For maintaining a high scholastic standing in military and academic courses and who has thru his outstanding participation and leadership in military affairs distinguished himself and brought credit to the cadet corps."

For Cadet Lieutenant Thomas J. Onderko the afternoon brought double honors as his flight was selected "outstanding." In recognition of this achievement his flight had 5 demerits removed from the records.

There was no award of the Reserve Officers Association Medal this spring semester because no one student fulfilled completely all the requirements necessary to win the award.

Captain Carper completed the honors by inviting Cadet Major Ustynoski and Cadet Lieutenants McGeehan and Onderko to dinner at "Gus" Genetti's.

The COLLEGLIAN STAFF wishes to congratulate the entire corp on their snappy marching and military bearing throughout the ceremonies.

HANDS OFF! !

John Coyne--head custodian--is asking the full cooperation of all the students here at Highacres to refrain from pulling the flowers and leaves from the bushes which adorn our campus. The tendency is always there to pluck those beautiful flowers, but wouldn't it be much better if those flowers were left where nature put them so that we all may benefit from their beauty.

It's your campus. Take care of it.
