AFROTC SHINES (continued)

Hundreds of interested (wet) spectators lined the sidewalks to see, to their surprise, the great number of men in the various reserve organizations in this city.

After several minutes the rain stopped and most of the cadets felt 100% better. Using the marching taught to them at the common hours, the cadets truly did an admirable job.

Cadet Emil (Cal Pane, Cosgrove) Butchko took action pictures of the cadets on the march.

Captain Carper, it has been rumored, was well pleased with the performance of his cadets. (He also wonders if the Naval Reserve teaches any marching at their meetings.)

Well--boys, we'll see you in the Mummers' Parade come October ! ! !

PICNIC

The dawn of the Picnic Day for Highacres came--with old man Sol flickering on and off. Though a little damp, the students started for Justofin's Grove and arrived around 2:30 p.m. Games were started, which included badminton, volley ball, and quoits. Then around 4 p.m. it started to rain. Singing in the rain has nothing on volley ball and badminton in the rain. Sometime try it.

After playing for awhile everyone was quite hungry. The delicious food included hot dogs, soda, pretzels, pickels, ice cream, and potato salad, and bar-b-ques prepared for us by Mrs. Smith.

Later on in the evening dancing was enjoyed by all. The picnic ended around 9 o'clock and everyone agreed that he had a wonderful time.

GLIDER CLUB NEWS

The Glider Club members hope to have their glider in good condition by the end of the month. If their wishes are not able to come true they will work on into the month of June. Their goal is to attend the National Glider Meet which will be held some time during the early part of July.

Captain Carper believes that they might be able to pick up a few pointers at the Meet and then put them to good use when they take the glider out during the summer.

Happy gliding.

DANCING CLASS

The dancing class that is to be held Thursday night, May 21, is the last one this semester. All students are urged to attend, to make this one as successful as the past ones have been.

These classes have helped not only those who could not dance before, but they have also helped the ones who could dance to learn new dances and new steps.

The students that attended the last class missed the merry music of the "Dixieland Tree," but we all want to thank the trio for helping the classes to be as successful as they have been.

Since this to be the last social affair at Highacres, lets all make it a big success by being there.
