
PARNASSUS HOLDS ANNUAL INITIATION

Parnassus held its annual initiation last Friday night in the lounge. During the impressive candlelight ceremony the following pledges were taken into membership: Joe Belovich, Joan Greising, John Misoda, Nick Skimbo, Jane Tressler, Beverly Wizdo, Pat Tomsho, Clarence Shipman, Janice Magavich, John Carr.

Mr. Campbell talked about the origin, aims, and purposes of Parnassus. The society takes its name from the Greek mountain Parnassus which was the home of the muses who presided over literature, and the arts.

President William Coll read the charge to the pledges, and Marie Jacko, secretary, presided over the signing of the pledges' names in the book of Parnassus. Dave Edwards, a charter member, and Mr. Steel acted as marshals.

The initiation was attended by several members of the faculty.

PARNASSUS TO MEET TODAY

Parnassus will hold its final meeting of the year today during fifth period. At this time officers for next year will be elected. The society will also choose the recipients of the Parnassus awards for the most valuable freshmen and sophomore at this time.

All members are requested to be present.

STUDENT-COMMUNITY CHORUS ACTIVITIES

The Student-Community Chorus sang at the Presbyterian Home on Tuesday, May 19. The chorus presented its program to an audience of 25 old folks. The chorus seems to have enjoyed the old ladies as much as they enjoyed and appreciated the chorus.

The chorus offered a few additional moments of entertainment when they had their picture taken by Mr. Wilson Barto.

After the program, refreshments were served and the chorus was taken on a tour of the home. The beautiful home and surrounding scenery offered a perfect place for a spring concert.

This Sunday the chorus will sing at the Grace Reformed Church at the evening service opening the Church's anniversary week. Miss Chlora Fey will accompany the chorus on the organ.

The chorus will make its final appearance of the season at the Convocation dinner May 28.

The all-star notched another run in the 4th and then lowered the boom on Dix in the 5th by piling up six runs. Though the whole Highacres team looked good in the big 5th inning, the outstanding label must be attached to "Cal" Shipman and Pete "Ka-roo" Kerutis whose base-clearing doubles made the biggest splashes.

After the 5th inning the Pottsville pitcher seemed loath to continue--somehow the boy was discouraged. At this point the visitors dug up a reliever and none
