 MU DELTA SIGMA (continued)

at the Center's festivities. Speaking of festivities, the College Arts Society sports it's H. C. Joe Belovich and members: Andy Karpinski and John Misoda; Social Activity Committee, under the supervision of Bob Tansho hails frat men Joe Belovich and John Misoda.

The Dean's Committee, Traffic Committee and various other student faculty boards and committees have positions filled by these Mu Delta Sigma men who make up the Student Council. Chief among these shouldered with much responsibility are Andy Karpinski, John Carr, Frank Smida, Cal Shipman, and Wick Pollick.

In the Gummy Club the Pharaoh position is held by Wick Pollick; High Priest by Bob Tracy, "Money Bags" held by Frank Smida.

Even here in our COLLEGLIAN staff we have Norm Hall; John Misoda, assn't editor; and Joe Belovich, editor.

Yes, in these and many others phases of the Center's career you will find the Sigma men doing their best toward the betterment of the Center and the student body.

A reward would be appropriate for these frat men, however, why not just turn over the whole Center to them--it's almost their's now.

27 for 32

Twenty-seven issues in 32 weeks is the publication record of this year's HAZLETON COLLEGLIAN staff. In almost no other field of student activity is there need for such consistent pegging away--- meeting a deadline each week; somehow, some hour of the night or morning getting those canary-yellow sheets of news and features into the "public's" hands before the news is cold.

Members of this year's staff were not only assiduous in covering their weekly assignments; they also developed news sense and good taste to the degree that the adviser did not have to advise: in the case of several recent issues the adviser just cranked the mimeograph and read the news at the same time as "the Public"

We must thank the MU DELTA SIGNAL and Melvin the Mole for the stimulus they gave to the reading habits of Highacres denizens and for lending the COLLEGLIAN some ace reporters.

"FRONT AND CENTER"

With convocation in the air, the Butler Mountain spring breezes blow over Highacres and in their calm swells bring us their invigorating tang of trophy time. Some ancient legend has it that the breezes of Highacres bring about reverse actions on certain occasions; therefore in maintaining and adhering to this legend, we with unbounded pleasure shall present to each and every student attending Highacres his or her OBERSE OSCAR.

In placing emphasis upon the word "obverse" we wish to clearly point out that--each inscription is meant for the direct opposite.

So if you will rise and step up to the platform when your name is read, we will present you with your "Obverse Oscar" for your outstanding trait.

With your phantom trophy we bid you farewell through THE COLLEGLIAN--your college newspaper--and hope that many moons from today you will remember us as we have remembered you.

P. S. Don't go away mad.
