

LIBERAL ARTS CURRICULUM

All Liberal Arts students, according to the revised curriculum in the Liberal Arts field, must complete 12 credits in science and/or in mathematics. These courses must be taken in at least one of the following 3 fields:

- (A) Physics, Chemistry, Geology
- (B) Botany and zoology
- (C) Mathematics

Furthermore, at least 16 credits must be taken in one of these fields, and in the science courses there must be laboratory work involved.

The above requirements, however, have been waived in the field of Physics, Geology, and Chemistry by the Dean of the liberal arts school for students up to and including present freshmen. Physical Science 7 and 8 can be substituted for the courses in group A even though they do not have laboratory work. All L. A. students should keep this in mind after transferring to the campus in case of any questions being raised on the science requirements.

BASKETBALL

At student council's request, a meeting of Center basketball players was held Tuesday evening in S-101. Mr. Preston Peightal, athletic advisor, was pleased by the attendance of 18 basketball candidates. He pointed out several points to the prospects such as, (1) keeping in condition, (2) Failure to attend practice, which this year will be held 3 times a week. No replacement has, as yet, been named for Frank Antinozzi, last year's coach.

Games will be played on the same schedule as last year-- Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday nights. There will be a total of five away games, including such competition as York, Johnstown, and Hershey Centers.

Following is a list of prospects who attended the meeting and signed up to play the game:

Bobby Boyle, Roy Atherholt, Jim Kobrick, Clint Frank, Iram Michael, Jim Raos, Jack Mitchell, Norm Hall, Ed Evancho, Fran Lawrence, Tom Brislin, Stan Gruszowski, Eugene Pahls, Norb Turnbach, John Polchin, Thomas Swick, Norman Lapinski, and James Kissawetter.

Last call will go out in the near future for any additional members to the squad so make up your mind NOW and make this year's team  Hazleton Center's Best...

SORORITY NEWS.

The first business meeting of Theta Sigma Pi Sorority was held Thursday evening October 15 in the lounge.

Miss Dossinbach has informed us that she brought back from a trip to the campus several booklets concerning sorority problems and women's government on the main campus. These booklets will be given to the girls for reference. In close connection with this a committee will be formed to formulate and enforce a set of rules for the lounge.

A partial agenda of social events for the year will be drawn up, and a fund raising affair will be discussed. Also to be discussed are the purchase of sorority pins and increase in dues and a deadline date for their payment.

The Highlight of the evening was the distribution of the pictures taken by Mr. Wilson Barto of the Standard Sentinel staff of the formal initiation held October 1.
