

STUDENT NEWS CONT.

- Zoology lab classes dissected frogs this week. Tom Zubach wanted to take the legs home to fry but Mr. Steel quietly informed him that they were soaked in formaldehyde. Careful, Zoom Zoom, watch your diet.

The ROVING REPORTER

Hi, gang, this is your roving reporter again ready to give you all the facts about the goings on around this school of ours.

You're all familiar with the saying, "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes". Well, the question is, what are the opinions of the Penn State boys on this statement. After interviewing some of the gentlemen here at the Center, it is difficult to determine what they prefer. (They are a peculiar bunch if I ever saw one). Here are some of the retorts I recieved when I asked the question,-- " Do you prefer blondes or brunettes?"

Norm Hall- "Anything but redheads!" (HO HO, that's playing it safe, no redheads at the Center this semester.)

Bobby Valiak- "I prefer blondes...any kind at all.. dirty blondes, strawberry blondes , etc. " (Now there's a boy with definite ideas).

Joe Arden - "It doesn't matter, I have a cocker spaniel!"

Larry Yannes- "Whom do I prefer? Women, preferably blondes and redheads 'cause they have such fiery tempers. "

Jerry Root - "Brunetts, blondes usually die their hair."

Chippy- "I prefer Marilyn Monroe". (Funny, I don't remember asking that question.)

Pete Zablocki - "Blondes, when their goodlooking."

Bob Henney - " I like brunettes! (They say opposites attract opposites

Buddy Robinson - "The color of her hair doesn't matter, just as long as she's a woman."

P.S. If you will notice, the majority of those interviewed didn't even bother to answer the question. Next week the feminine ideas will be expressed.
Bye now, be back next week with some very interesting facts.

BOOKSTORE GAZETTE

Betty Spock, in charge of sales , reports the following choice goods freshly in stock:

Zoology Laboratory Manual
French - Lettering Book #2
Book Covers
Medium and small white sweatshirts
Medium Men's T-Shirts
Stationery

Miss Spock also announces that November 13 is the date for payment of tuition.

WE REGRET TO INFORM YOU THAT CHIPPY CAUGHT HIS TAIL IN A DOOR AND WAS UNABLE TO FREE HIMSELF FOR PRESS TIME.