MITCH MITCHELL and NORM LAPINSKY.

GOOD LUCK fellows and help us remember what it feels like to be on top again.....Bring us back a win.

CHRISTMAS PARTY IS A SUCCESS.....

The Christmas Party held in the main lounge on Wednesday evening drew quite a mob---even the Ole Boy with the Beard, Bob Henney, one of the dormitory boys put in an appearance as SANTA CLAUS, did a wonderful job too. In the middle of the evening the music stopped and the boy in the red suit stole the show. With the lounge quiet he listened to the wishes of some of the students, teachers and friends, and promptly presented them with a gift. All the toys that our participants received provided laughter and fun for all attending. Refreshments were served and carol singing around the lighted Christmas tree ended the evening. Sorry you couldn't be with us---it was worth the walk up the hill.

STUDENT NEWS---

About 22 students missed the first visit of Santa. On Tuesday Mary Bissol (Mrs. S. Claus) modeled the Santa Claus costume that was used at the Christmas Party on Wednesday....Some laughs.

The Chem class had to wait ten more minutes after their class was over to see if Jean Haegle's solution turned RED or PINK. Slow drip, Jean

Don't miss the Community Chorus Concert on Tuesday evening December 15, 1953. Our college participants are really making the toy symphony sound like something---mainly the cuckoo---Lois.

As RAY CARBE and JOE FIERRO looked toward Highacres from their homes last evening, they asked each other if the red lighted star upon the Chem building was FRANK GATTAS'S night lamp.

Did you dig that FLASHY RED SUIT NANCY MAUE was sporting the other day, wow, it is evident that Nancy has the Yuletide Spirit. Or does She?? we may approach this problem from several angles?? can't we Nan.

The Zoo Lab students are going Froggy this week. They are taking individual lab tests on the parts and systems of the frog, ROUGH.....

MARGIE BREHM "QUIETLY" told Santa Claus, but loud enough so Mr. Krecker, who was sitting beside his wife in the lounge at the time, that she would like a 3 in Psychology, but if Santa couldn't make it a 3, Marge will settle for a 2.5...

SPECIAL NOTICE..... MR. MATTERN. *****

It has been reported that an article printed in this paper a few weeks back concerning Jean PLATT confuses you. Sir, we will for you print an article exposing MISS PLATT'S activities in our next edition. Miss PLATT, I would personally clarify this for MR. MATTERN if I were you.

CAMPUS  HIGHLIGHTS
By "CHIPPY CHIPMONK"

Hi Fellow Students.....

Here is your old friend CHIPPY back once again with some of the latest campus gossip.

Well, Santa made his appearance Wednesday night at Highacres. He gave some of the students some of most valuable gifts you ever did see(?) Santa's only complaint was that "things are tough all over".

According to the receiver of a little tractor Santa and his helpers must have been a little on the sarcastic side this year. The only remark, however, was---and I QUOTE " One of these days--POW// Right in the orchest sit?
