

Here are some of the predictions which he made : Francis Gattas will stop bumming cigars and will once again begin bumming cigarettes; Vern Raos will follow the words of wisdom of the basketball team and enter into the realms of matrimony; Joe (Silent One) Arden will resume his New York trips; Nancy Maue will eventually, though with difficulty, get over the loss of Paul W.; Mary Ann V. Donish will break into the field of great musicians by learning to play "Sweet Violets" on her newly acquired uke; Beverly Wizdo will hit 2.5 this semester; Larry Y. and Betty I. will end their deadlock; nothing dreadful, as predicted, will happen to Norm Hall and Ellen; Margie Brehm will not marry as has been rumored; Robert Stauffer will be going steady before the finals" (Ha)!

Mr. Ouija at this point became somewhat reluctant, but with a little prodding gave out with more dope. The basketball team will come out on top; social events will be more and numerous and much better than last semester; the Rossi quartet will not be resumed, as Bob Henny's Tenor voice has cracked into a sour bass. Ping-Pong "6" will re-enter the field of instruction at Highacres; Mike Seaman will eventually shift to Ag. Ed.; Bobbie Boyle will write a novel on his fabulous airplane trip to Cleveland and dedicate it to Clint Frank; also, these two will end their lip-stick famine soon; Jack Polchin will never forget Johnston (Ugh); Mary Bissol's "brand new" shoes will look beat in two weeks and three days; Elaine Ferko (Queen of Eckley '51) will become Highacres No. 1 social climber; Jan Magavich has purchased a shotgun and will definitely have success with Econ. (Beware Mr. K.) Florence Pusti will open her loan shark office in S. 777. Mr. Steel's field trips will become a social must; John Crine (boy-nothing) will develop Amnesia and no one will know the difference; Juba Marchese will maintain his 1000 shooting average on the basketball court; Lillian Junas will organize a girls baseball team in early spring; Jackie Gohn will hit a 2.5 in Poly. Sci. (after this remark, Mr. Ouija glanced at the large clock on the wall. It was only a few minutes before five and Mr. Ouija (he's a union man) refused to give forth with another word. We hope to visit him again soon, but the degree of success we have will not be known until a later date.

CENTER FIVE TO PLAY SUSQUEHANNA FROSH IN ANNUAL DREAM GAME----- MARCH 22

Sid Benjamin, Chairman of the annual dream game, announced last night that the Susquehanna University Freshman have been secured to oppose our Hazleton Center team on March 22.

Susquehanna is coached by Ed Pfeiffer, former Weatherly ace, and playing with the team are Frank Romano, who broke the regional scoring record last year, and Dwight Huseman, who played with White Haven last year.

This year's Center basketeers will be the strongest aggregation entered by our center in recent years. The Dream Game doubleheader is staged annually for the Eyesight Conservation Fund of the Hazleton Lions Club.

NEW ATTACK DRUBS KEYSTONE.

Playing with a shifted offense and defensive attack, Hazleton Center traveled to Factoryville, Pa. Wed. night and handed Keystone its fifth defeat.

Although pressed for three quarters, the charges of Zack
