NAMES AROUND THE CAMPUS

Most of us take our names for granted, and we seldom realize that there are many interesting things which can be learned about them. This reporter has discovered some fascinating facts about some of our Highacres' first names.

For example, the popular name of John is derived from the Hebrew and means "God is gracious". Many foreign countries have their own version of the name John. In France, John would be called Jean; in Italy, Giovanni; in Spain or Mexico, Juan; in Germany, Johann or Hans; in Holland, Jan; and in Russia, Ivan. Joseph is also derived from Hebrew, and it means "He shall add". An Italian Joseph would be called Guiseppe, while a Spanish one would be called Jose. Robert is a name of Teutonic derivation which means "bright in fame". Robert is a notable name because of its great number of popular nicknames which include Bob, Lobby, Dob, Rob, Robbie, and Robin. The name Thomas is Hebrew meaning "a twin", while William is Teutonic and means "helmet of resolution." Paul comes from the Latin name Paulus which means "little one." The Paul's we know aren't so little, and the Michael is Hebrew meaning "Who is like God?"

Among the girls' names, Mary which is another Hebrew name, is also popular in other countries with only slight changes into Marie, or Mar'a. Nancy is really derived from Ann, which in turn comes from the Hebrew and means "grace". Evelyn is derived from Eve and means youth.

Whole books have been written about names, but we haven't that much space. So, if your name isn't here, and this article has made you curious about it, I guess you'll just have to look it up. Happy hunting!

OBEY THE SIGN

We as college students are old enough to know that we must obey rules. In our STUDENT CAFETERIA there is a set of rules that include returning the cups and sushes that have been used to their proper place and throwing trash into the new white containers.

If we all obey these rules our eating place will be a much better place in which to eat, and the ladies in the kitchen can concentrate on cooking.

LET'S OBEY THE RULES!
