CO-EDS WONDERING IF BIG BRAVE COLLEGE MEN ARE SMOO'S....

The roving reporter of this staff went sneaking around the campus last week and overheard many comments and remarks about the coming Semi-Formal Saturday the 22nd. It seems that most of the babes are quite upset that there isn't more response on the part of the men?? at the center. With the dance only one week away, many an available co-ed is still waiting to hear the simple sentence: Would you go to the dance with me?? Many of the comments were that the guys here are bashful. (No comment) Afraid of girls?? (Humm) Don't give a darn! (Ouch) The other reasons were not in language printable at this time. (My ears are still burning). Some of the men voiced opinions too. "The girls up here don't give a guy half a break." Too conceited...etc. etc.. These opinions are not the reporters own opinion. It looks as if a Committee will have to be set up to get male and female together up here. Maybe a Lonely hearts club?? All this reporter has to say on this question is for the males to get up a little nerve and ask a co-ed to be your partner. The gals can also be more cooperative in this sense too. Let's get on the ball and make the May Day Ball the biggest event ever staged in this area.....
