

Devised question, "How many 3¢ stamps in a dozen?" She said 36! "Blue Eyes" Jackie Cohn was auctioned off for 56¢ to Bob Henney.

The next party happened to coincide with some Blue Books and found most kids pretty weary and badly in need of some cheer.

The Four Sharps provided music and Walt Smerconish was the M.C. He gave a spiel of local interest that rocked the gang and this was followed by a game of "Isi-Bitsi" between Don Feuhrer and Betty Iffert. Betty got rather red over the whole thing.

The odds at this party were pretty even and found the kids coupling up like a train. The finale was the Bunny Hop led by Bob Scott and Marge "Lets have a Party" Brehm. "Garbage" was served in the cafeteria and the party adjourned to places unknown.
