

MORE UPPERCLASSMEN

HOWARD ROBINSON

Our debatable pal, who gave all he had to Spanish and philosophy. You could always find "Buddy" sitting with a gang of girls gabbing away. He was active in the College Arts Society. His sociableness and jolly eyes make this Massachusetts native liked by all.

GOERGE KOBRICK

The boy with the versatile names — "Bear", "Jim", and "George". By anyone of the he was known as the "Library Crooner". He played a heavy role at shortstop for the Nitehawks. "The Bear" was also a member of the chorus ensemble during the spring semester.

LAWRENCE YANNES

Larry is one sophomore whom we will miss because of his friendly gestures, his pleasing smile and his way with girls. He was an active member of the Social committee during the fall semester and was always around to help when he was needed. An ex-G.I., Yocko will continue in the Business course at Penn State campus.

PETER ZABLOCKI

Pete is our veteran who is always looking for a ride to West Hazleton. His artistic ability was partly displayed in the throne for the May Day Coronation. We'll remember Pete as getting along fine with girls and accounting.

BOB HENNEY

The farmer from Dallas is one of the most popular fellows at Highacres. Amiable and well-liked Bob, who likes food, farming, fast cars and "Ruthie", is an ex-Navy man and is presently enrolled in Ag. Ed. Bob served as a member of the Student Council, Manager of the basketball team, President of the Parnassus Honors Society, contributor to the Collegian, and member of the social committee. Bob hopes someday to settle down to farming and raise sheep, corn and kids.

JOE ARDEN

Silent Joe is an ex-Navy man, from Scranton currently enrolled in A & L. "Joetoy" looks anxiously toward the day he gets his law degree with a Spanish minor and can retire to a lucrative practice in Tiajuana, Mexico amid plenty of sun and señoritas.
