CORRECTION ON U.N. INFORMATION

Last week we printed an article about the U.N. trip, which is being held today, Friday, October 22nd. However, our source of information was not accurately relayed to us, and we unintentionally printed a slight error. The trip is sponsored by the League of Woman Voters, but the two Penn State students selected for the trip are sponsored by the Penn State Auxiliary, and not as stated previously. We are grateful for the thoughtfulness of these two organizations and are sorry to have planted them in the wrong place.

The two students selected from our center were: Bob Scott and Ilona Weltman.
