

-----
SCHOOL TEN COMMANDMENTS

1. Thou shall not come late (Take the whole day off).
2. Thou shall not drive his or her teacher to the grave (Let the undertaker do it).
3. Thou shall not bore others by talking (Leave that for the politicians to do).
4. Thou shall not skip school (Just walk out quietly).
5. Thou shall not eat during class (Go over to Rossi's if you're hungry).
6. Thou shall not rush to the cafeteria (You get the same "stuff" if you're first or last).
7. Thou shall not copy from some one else's paper during a test (Use your book, you won't get eye strain).
8. Thou shall not come to class unprepared (Don't ever forget your food, funny-books, noise makers, and everything that makes you prepared for any situation).
9. Thou shall not crack gum during class (Blowing bubbles is the style).
10. Thou shall not give his or her teacher high blood pressure (Just work on the nerves).

-----
HAVE YOU NOTICED?

Randall Grasley's two-toned neutral shoes?
 Mary Jane's new blue trimmed glasses?
 Art's yellow knitted 'pull-over'?
 Emil Adams' pink shirt?
 Tom Swick's new transparent top Ford?
 Jack Burggraf's pipe?
 Barbara's 'color array' of knee socks?
 Miss Garbrick's haircut?
 Bob Yori's pin line mustache?
 Don Kellner's crew cut?
 Paul Augustine's new corduroy hat?
 Stan's blank tooth?
 Jack Amentler's dimples?
 Bette's white sweater with red and blue stripes?

-----
CAMPUS CLICK

This week we bring you the last jingle of our mystery person, Campus Click. Next week we will publish the answer to our mystery. Here is the final jingle:

A crew cut and a "famous" hat,
 Well-built physique but is not fat.
 White on top and sometimes below,
 Gives a pen name - now do you know?

Here are the first three parts of our mystery jingle:

Some just say nineteen
 But some may say eighteen,
 Not a prize, but a fee
 That both could it be?

A nickname quite well known
 High marks had earned to own,
 Six more trends plus some
 Then a job or a gun.

A nifty little Chevie car
 But most days "thumbs" from valley far.
 From a town of workers, so they say
 That reminds us of a holiday.