

Dear Ms. Tiger...

Dear Ms. Tiger,

I'm a sophomore, and my daily routine seems to be as such: class, library, then back to my room. It seems lately that this is all I do, and all I have been doing since freshman year. I want to meet new people, as well as help my Penn State community, but I don't know how to get involved.

Signed,
Bored

Submit your own "Dear Tiger" question at 4thwall.psu@gmail.com

Dear Bored,

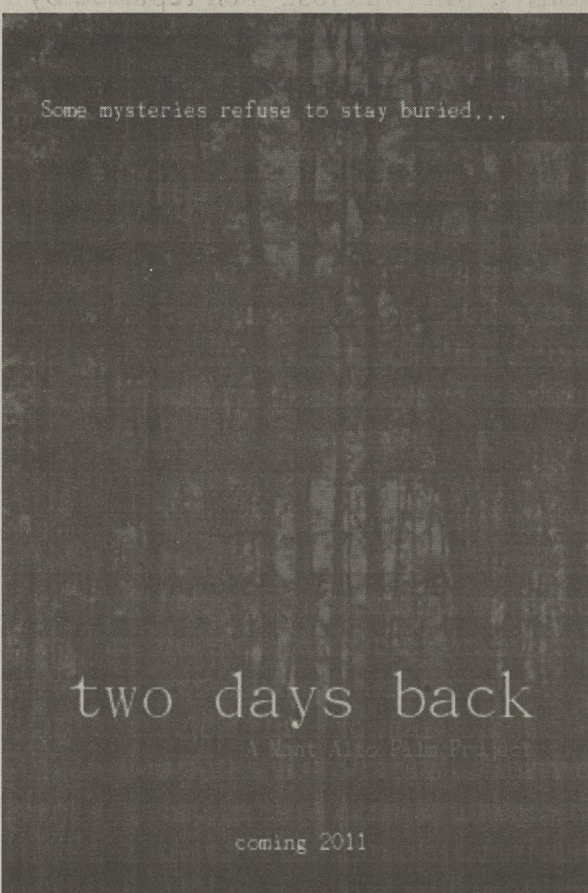

It seems to me that you're lacking a little enjoyment in your college life. After all, college should be one of the best times of your life! If you love to meet people and want to help your Penn State community, the perfect way to do so is by joining a club or organization! Clubs and organizations can help you become more active in your school, do what you love, and meet like-minded people. It's not like class where you are being graded; you're simply using your skills to better the group, and building new skills along the way. Penn State Mont Alto has many clubs and organizations, such as the Woodmen's team, THON Dance Marathon, Lion Ambassadors, The English Club, and The Musicians Club. A complete list can be found at <http://www.ma.psu.edu/StudentLife/ClubsAndOrganizations/clubs.htm>, or by contacting your coordinator of student activities, Mrs. Donna Rhodes, at (717) 749-6057 or dmr36@psu.edu. Hope this helps!

Ms. Tiger

Two Days Back: An Update

James Sterner

Last semester marked the end of principal photography for the Mont Alto Film Project. As the four-semester project enters its final stage, students are now focused on editing the hours of footage shot during the fall of 2010. This time-consuming process involves digitally piecing together hundreds of shots, adjusting the audio levels of dialogue and effects, and eventually composing and recording an original musical score. The film, entitled Two Days Back, is set to premiere in the late summer of 2011 at a local theater. Shot entirely by Mont Alto students under the supervision of Dr. Kevin Boon, Two Days Back has been described as a "mystery with traces of horror." The film's trailer, as well as behind-the-scenes photos, production updates, and news articles, is available for viewing at <http://mafilmproject.wordpress.com/>.

Katie Howard, Johnno Wilson, and Matthew Baldoni star in Two Days Back