

DEAR EDITOR

Dear Editor,

It is very difficult to understand the motives or operation of the officers of the S.G.A., when they fail to live up to the constitution from which they are chartered.

Evidence of this is first of all in the call to general order or meetings. The constitution states there will be meetings every week.

This doesn't hold true for there have been

BASKETBALL Now

by Nick DeVirgiliis

The basketball team will open it's season on Monday Dec. 7, and a final cut must be made to determine the 12 players who will represent the Delaware County Campus.

Last season both Bob Talley and Barry Gillian gained starting positions as freshmen and will return this season as sophomore starters.

According to three meetings that no one attended.

One time it was said that there weren't enough people to have a meeting. Another occassion, the President wasn't present and the next officer in charge somehow couldn't bring it upon himself to take over and call a meeting.

Of course the week after that, all members of the Executive Board went to the OSGA meeting at University Park therefore no one was able to stay behind and take over the meeting.

coach Robert Spickler, 50% of the team will consist of sophomores which probably will mean a starting position for the aggressive freshmen players.

"Although the team is shaping up well," said Spickler, "much of the talent is hidden." He hopes to develop this talent through the up coming weeks of practice. Right now the team's practice schedule is Mon-

There are no notices posted on the meeting or what was accomplished. This is important because the student body should be aware of what the SGA does since belonging to this campus we must know what's going on with the student government since it is supposed to represent us and there goes another problem. How come there isn't sufficient representation?

I don't like to be one to criticize but I am a concerned student here and there must be others who would like to see improvements.

A concerned student.

day through Friday from 7 A.M. to 8:30 A.M.

"This seasons schedule is a tough one," said Spickler, "with our biggest rivalries against Community College of Delaware County, and the Ogontz and Mont Alto Campuses of the Pennsylvania State University."

BY THE WAY

by Lyn Newman

Michael Johnson, Assistant Dean of Student Affairs has been calling local industries each day looking for full or parttime jobs for Delaware campus students. His efforts are to build a job bank as part of the University placement service.....

Patricia Blank, who is in charge of instructional services introduced two films; "Glass", and "Paladini." Both were presented as an experiment for students to collect an interest in appreciation, enjoyment and experience in films.

Mrs. Blank says she feels that through audio visual aids, students can get a better perspective in thinking, education and wisdom.

"We have a list of films that would appeal to anyone," she said.

"We hope to show many more films between now and spring.".....
