

THE LIMA BEAN

This is to inform you that the LIMA BEAN is a new innovation in derogatory journalistic journalism. It is of the utmost importance to the Editorial Board of the LION'S EYE that the public be informed from the inside of some of the world's strangest minds. Any and all material (some of which is biodegradable) is to be taken in the lightest sense with a grain of salt, a grain of sand and if you don't like in a grain of arsenic. We don't feel that your opinions are worth more than monkey vomit so please don't write to us unless you feel that you have something irrelevant and devoid of normal meaning to relate to us. Once again, this is all in fun, depending on your sense of humor, and is not meant to offend anyone. We apologize if we do offend someone but if you take action against us then everyone will know you are the twirp we have been writing about. Thank you for your time. Now I must go blow my nose.

SON OF MURRAY CAUGHT

One of the worst criminals the world has ever known was caught today. The man who calls himself "Son of Murray" was caught ending the wave of strange murders. Students have been found shot through the heart with an arrow and left to die on an archery target. There was one victim found floating in an industrial drum in the Rio Delco. Anxious students watched as Coast Guard officials dregged the tiny stream wasting the taxpayers time and money in hopes of finding more bodies in the one-quarter inch deep stream. The third body that was found was seen slumped over in the mods with an unfinished turkey sandwich in his hand. (Authorities immediately dismissed this killing after the coroners report found that he was poisoned by the food he got from the vending machine.)

There were five other victims of Son of Murray found in such unlikely places as the Mechanical Drawing room, Mr. King's filing cabinets and floating in a test tube in Dr. Coopers lab. Son of Murray was identified as Mr. Ben Dover a transferred proctology student from Rooster College in Iowa.

Son of Murray said he received his name from a caterpillar who used to tell him to murder butterflies. Ben couldn't see himself killing something as beautiful as a butterfly so he resorted to killing students on this campus. He was released on his own recognizance after the judge decided that he really was just a mixed up kid and he had no previous record.

This reporter did some research into the the accused past and found he did have a record. Of his crimes were stealing dental floss, mentally disrupting a city council meeting, and molesting sheep. On each account the judge put him off after Ben gave the judge his phone number.

Son of Murray played no favorites in his murders. Of his seven victims five were from the suburbs, two from the city. Four were male, three were female. Six were caucasian and one wa a Negro. Six were straight and one was gay.
