

A Super Soccer Season

by Ella Manis

My first year at Penn State was most enjoyable along the lines of sports. Not only up at the Park, but also at Delco, which was proven by our soccer team's super effort on the playing field. They were victorious against the likes of Haverford J.V., Community College of Phila., North Eastern Christian College, Swarthmore J.V., Delaware County Community, Williamson, and even Penn State's own campuses, like Wilks-Barre, York, Mont Alto, and Hazelton.

Although their opponents weren't from the major schools, Delco's Nittany Lions proved that they can handle anyone.

Delco soccer team: need we say more.

ZANY TALES

by Ella Manis

Along with the serious playing of the Nittany Lions football team came the serious but hilarious sports stories from our former sports editor, Tom Flynn. The two that I find funny are "What's with Joe's Pants?" and "What I Won't Tell My Grandchildren." If you read the grandchildren story then you must know how crazy our former editor is. And as for the article on Joe's pants, well it speaks for itself. My only thoughts upon reading this article is whether or not Joe found some more "Lucky" pants. Perhaps he caught another sale?

Kicking Up A Storm

Robert Hollenbeck and Carolyn Ferris traveled to Temple University on October 2, 1982 to represent the Penn State Karate Club in the Kin Yoan Scholarship Tournament. Carolyn placed second in the Women free style, while Robert did the same in the Men free style competition.

A Ping Pong First

The first annual Spirit Week Ping Pong Tournament was held in October and was a big hit. In the finals were Mike Boas and Chi Hoang. Although he started out strong, that little extra something was not with Mike Boas, while Chi Hoang looked impressive at the table and walked home with the first place trophy.

Athletic Briefs

A Hole in Three for Delco

The newly formed golf team from Delco left on October 7, 1982 to compete in a cross campus tournament. Delco finished third with Beaver and Dubois just ahead of them.

Field Hockey: Here to Stay

Just like other events, the formation of the women's field hockey team at our campus was a quiet one. Although last season came and went, this season is bound to be a winning one.

GUESS WHO HIRED MORE PEOPLE RIGHT OUT OF COLLEGE LAST YEAR THAN ANYONE ELSE.

Hiring college grads is something the Army has always done. And lately, we've been doing a lot more of it.

In fact, last year alone nearly 7,000 college grads chose to begin their future as Army officers.

Why? Some wanted the opportunity to develop valuable leadership and management skills early in their career.

Others were impressed with the amount of responsibility we give our officers starting out. And still more liked the idea of serving their country around the world.

Interested? Then you can start preparing for the job right now, with Army ROTC.

ROTC is a college program that trains you to become an Army officer. By helping you develop your leadership and management ability.

Enrolling can benefit your immediate future, too. Through scholarships and other financial aid.

So the next time you're thinking about job possibilities, think about the one more recent college graduates chose last year than any other.

For more information, contact the Professor of Military Science on your campus.
