

PENNSTATE

THE LION'S EYE

VOL., XX, NO. 1

PENN STATE UNIVERSITY, DELAWARE COUNTY CAMPUS

SEPTEMBER, 1988

October 1986

Ground breaking of Penn State's 3.5 million dollar Commons/Athletic Center.

(from left to right) Judge Louis A. Bloom, advisory board president; John Rhoads, former SGA president; Sen. Clarence D. Bell; Penn State President Bryce Jordan; Campus Executive Officer Edward S.J. Tomezsko; Jane E. Cooper, associate professor of biology and chair of the Campus Faculty Senate.

FROM THE LION'S EYE STAFF

We the editors and staff of THE LION'S EYE, your campus newspaper have enjoyed bringing you this, the first issue of the 1988-89 academic year. However, due to the lack of equipment expressly for the use of THE LION'S EYE staff, and the limited availability of other campus equipment, it has become necessary to consider suspending production of this publication. This decision is one that has been arrived at after much debate and anxiety. Nevertheless, we believe it is the only option, given the resources available.

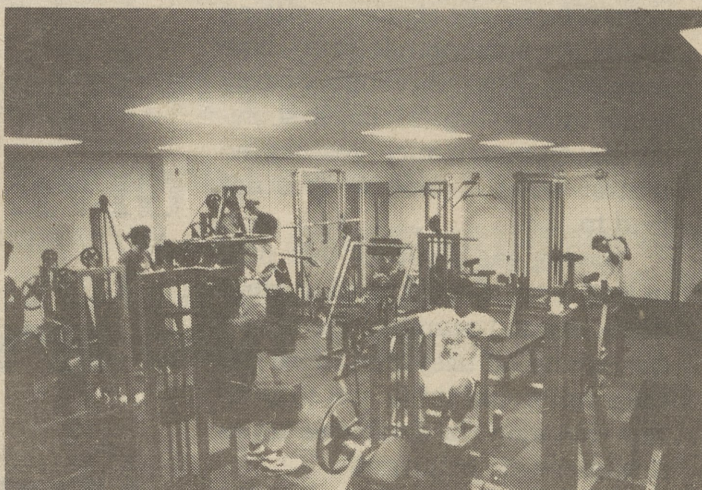

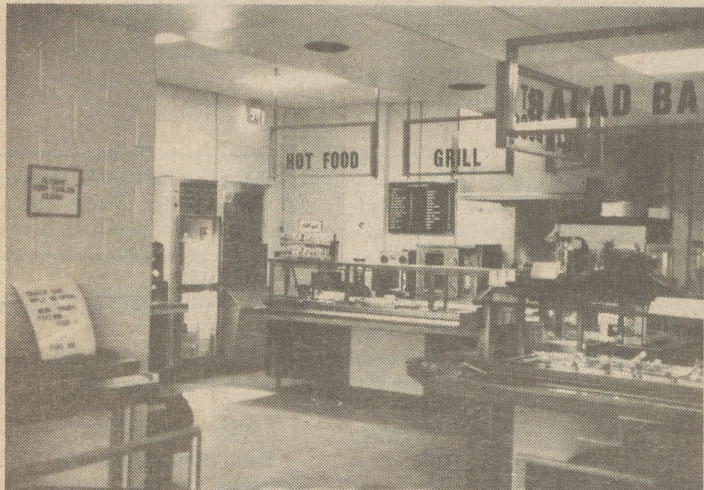

Thank you for your support!

THE LION'S EYE STAFF
Letters of support are welcome. Please send them in care of THE LION'S EYE.

September-October 1988

The Commons/Athletic Center is complete. The Center houses two gymnasiums, a running track, lockers and showers, a cafeteria (pictured in the lower left hand corner), a bookstore, a weight-training room (pictured in the bottom right hand corner), and the Continuing Education offices and Conference Center.

IN THIS ISSUE...

- Editorials.....pages 2-3
- Politics..... pages 4-5
- Freshmen look... pages 6-7
- Creative Writing. .pages 8-9
- Fine Arts..... .pages 10-11
- Sports.....page 12