

Fall Sports/Recreation Offer Opportunities for Involvement

The fall sports program at PSU Delco promises to be full and exciting. Three intercollegiate sports are seeking prospective members: men's soccer, which is being coached by Allen Mill, women's volleyball, being coached by Joann Brophy, and men's tennis, being coached by Tiz Griffith.

Physical examinations, required by all three teams, will be given on campus August 24 and 25, when practices will also start. The soccer team will face Widener's J.V. in a scrimmage one week later. Regular season play begins September 5 at PSU Ogontz for the tennis team, on September 9 in a home game against Ursinus College J.V. for the soccer team, and on September 11 at home against Lehigh Community College for the tennis team.

All three teams can use your support as a player or as a fan. Keep your schedule handy.

Intramurals and Recreational Programs

A number of intramurals will be offered this fall. To get the latest information about teams and sign-ups, look for signs in the hallways and read the latest issue of What's Happening, the weekly campus newsletter found in hallways and lounges throughout campus.

The gymnasium and other athletic facilities in the Commons Building are open daily for student use from 11:00 AM until 4:00 PM, as well as some evenings.

The PSU Delco Lion cavorts in front of the Commons Building where the gymnasium and other athletic facilities are open to students from 11:00 AM to 4:00 PM daily.

Griffith Named Athletic Director

Doris "Tiz" Griffith, an instructor here for eight years in the College of Health and Human Development, has been named Athletic Director for the campus. She served as Acting Director last year.

"I'm excited about the job," she said, "because the programs we had last year were fabulous with the opening of the new Commons Building. And I expect this year will be the same."

The opening of the gymnasium and other sports-related facilities last year was the biggest change Mrs. Griffith has seen since she arrived on campus in the fall of 1981. "It changed everything: instructional, recreational, and intramural programs. We can offer so much more on campus now."

She has also seen a lot of growth in the intercollegiate programs. "The year I came there were only three intercollegiate sports: men's soccer, tennis, and basketball. Now there are nine, including many for women."

A member of the United States Field Hockey team and the Temple Hall of game, Mrs. Griffith has been active in coaching since 1960. This fall she begins her fourth year coaching the PSU Delco men's tennis team, and will coach the women's tennis team for the third time in the spring. She looks forward to a good season for both teams.

Campus Ambassadors

"As a member of the Pennsylvania State University student body, it is important for me to take part in school activities. Although academic performance is of great importance, being active in school-related activities should play a big role in my college career at P.S.U."

James Henegan, of Philadelphia, the third semester student who works in the summers in Atlantic City, said this:

"I take so much from this campus everyday in the classroom and now I think it is time I repay my debt with service via the Campus Ambassadors."

In addition to Nguyen and Henegan, the Ambassadors include Joan Impagliazzo, of Brookhaven, the mother of four; Terrance Donahue, of Media, the former Marine; Timothy Drain, of Exton, the former soldier; Beth Cook, of Downingtown, who will be commuting this semester to the Delaware County and Berks campuses; and Victor Parada, of Unionville, who was born in Mexico.

Others are: Tyvise Churchville, Jacqui Dische, Brett Eiseman, Brian Enverso, Deborah Foreman, Alexandra Hilt, Marni Hollis, David Lund, Dale Marchand, Rob Martin, Debi McKinley, Caroline Saba, and Sheri Ann Snyder.
