

All U-Day All U-Day All U-Day

All U-Day will be held at Penn State Main Campus at University Park this year on Saturday, September 22, 1990. All U-weekend is from Friday, September 21 to Sunday, September 23.

It is a time for Penn State students from all satellite campuses throughout Pennsylvania to visit "The Park", see a real Penn State Football game, and meet old as well as new friends. It's a great opportunity to see what University Park holds in store for you! COME ON UP!!!!!!

SADD Sponsors Campus Contest

by Bryan Ruskavich

The campus organization for Students Against Drunk Driving (S.A.D.D.) is sponsoring a poster/T-shirt contest. Creative posters following the theme of S.A.D.D. and containing the words "Penn State Delaware County Campus" and "S.A.D.D." are to be turned in by Friday, September 28, in Office B inside the Lion's Den. There will be a one dollar entrance fee for non-S.A.D.D. members.

Fifty dollars will be given out as first prize, thirty as second prize, and ten as third prize. Each winner will also receive a T-shirt with his or her own design. The purpose of the contest is to create awareness, raise funds, and encourage student participation in the group.

S.A.D.D. was started at this campus in 1981. The Delaware County Campus was one of the first campuses of the Penn State branches to actively par-

Adult Students Comprise One-third Of Total Enrollment At PSU Delco

by Pat McAdams

The Adult Student Organization became the official umbrella organization of all adult students at Penn State Delaware County Campus during the 1989-1990 school year largely through the tireless efforts of Pat Cape, first president of the group. The purpose of the ASO is to provide a support network for adults returning to school, and to serve as an advocate for the non-traditional student on this campus.

Adult students currently represent a full one-third of the student body here, with numbers increasing significantly each year. For example, enrollment increased from 474 students during the 1988-1989 school year to 643 during 1989-1990.

Ninety-four percent of the adults at Delaware County Campus are pursuing their education on a part-time basis, defined by the University as registration for anything under 12 credits per semester. This is the largest percentage of any other campus in the Commonwealth system. These students are enrolled in a wide variety of degree and non-degree programs with the largest majority non-degree students at present.

The new baccalaureate degree in liberal arts (EGNAS), which is now available at Delaware County for adults, is receiving a great deal of attention as word of its existence spreads throughout the community. The advisor for the EGNAS program, Dr. George Franz, noted that dozens of individuals are currently at various stages of officially coming into the major.

Because most of the adults are on campus in the evening, every effort is being made to provide necessary programs and services during these hours as well as during the day. Notice about these services will be communicated through this newspaper, though WHAT'S HAPPENING, our bi-weekly newsletter, and through notations on bulletin board scattered throughout the campus.

Adult students may pick up a copy of our new ADULT STUDENT GUIDE in Room 105/106 Main, anytime, or in the ASO Office in the Lion's Den during the Commons hour any Monday, Wednesday or Friday.

The ASO is anxious to become acquainted with all adult students on campus. During the day, they can stop by the ASO office in the Lion's Den. If they can help you with any concerns, they would be most happy to do so.

The first general meeting of the ASO for the 1990-1991 school year will be on Wednesday, September 26, when the Sandwich Club meets in the Commons Upstairs Lounge during the lunch hour, 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. All adult students are invited to attend. Please bring a lunch; beverages will be provided.

HEY YOU!

Yeah! I'm talking to you! If you are interested in designing a new masthead (masthead: the heading at the top of a newspaper) to replace the boring one that now exists for the Lion's Eye...

Then do it!! Please submit all entries to Barbara Daniel or put them in the Lion's Eye mailbox. DEADLINE: October 1st!!

Please design yours as close to the size of the present one as possible. And it must say "The Lion's Eye". By the way, the winner gets a prize!!!

News From Main Campus

Radiation Center Formed

The College of Engineering has formed the Radiation Science and Engineering Center to recognize the breadth of nuclear testing, instruction, measurement and experimentation at University Park.

The new center will integrate facilities already in place, including the Penn State Breazeale Reactor, Low-Level Radiation Monitoring Laboratory, Neutron Beam Laboratory, Gamma Irradiation Laboratory, Nuclear Materials Engineering Laboratory and Fast Neutron Irradiator.

The center will offer neutron and gamma irradiation, neutron activation analysis, radionuclide supply, neutron radiography and environmental monitoring.

It also will provide a basis for undergraduate education and graduate research. Technical training programs are conducted at the Breazeale reactor for engineers, reactor operators, and safety personnel.

The center will continue participation in the Reactor Sharing Program funded by the U.S. Department of Energy to encourage the use of Penn State Facilities by other institutions for research and instruction. Currently, there are only 33 universities operating research reactors in the country.

International Television Programming
The University has added SCOLA (Satellite Communications for Learning) network, a Nebraska consortium that provides international television programming, to its educational services for students and faculty.

SCOLA programming is available on the Campus Network, which connects selected classrooms, offices, laboratories, auditoriums and dormitories at University Park to 12 channels of educational programming.

The Creighton University-based satellite service provides international news and educational broadcasts 24-hours a day. SCOLA programming currently originates from countries such as France, Spain, Germany, the Soviet Union, Mexico, Greece, China, Japan, Iran, Turkey, England, Argentina and Kenya. The majority of these programs are transmitted live.

Gay/Lesbian Lecture Series

Six activists and scholars will visit University Park as speakers in the second annual lecture series on contemporary scholarship on lesbian and gay lives.

The lectures, sponsored by the Equal Opportunity Planning Committee and the Department of Human Development and Family Studies, will examine the historic, political and cultural contests of lesbian and gay life in America.

Rhonda Rivera, professor of law at Ohio State University College of Law, will open the series with "Lesbians and Gay Men and the Law: Issues for the 1990's."

Other scheduled lectures are: "Coming Out Under Fire: Lesbians and Gay Men WW II," historian and activist Allan Berube; "Beyond Homophobia: Learning from American Indian and Asian-Pacific Cultures," University of Southern California anthropologist Walter L. Williams; "From Twice Cursed to Twice Blessed: Constructing a Jewish Lesbian and Gay Identity," activist and former director of New Jewish Agenda Christie Balka; "Growing Up Lesbian and Gay in the South," James T. Sears, who is in educational leadership and policies at the University of South Carolina; and "In the Life: The Courage of Lesbians and Gay Men of Color" Barbara Smith, co-founder of Kitchen Table: Women of Color Press.
