

Global Awareness Group Prods Campus Environmental Conscience

by Angela Deal

Rumor has it that your children's children will not be able to drink the earth's water, due to waste. If my mind serves me correctly, this could be quite a problem. Pretty discouraging, eh? In light of this and a thousand other problems, Penn State Delco is developing a club to inform and educate our campus concerning earth conservation.

This Global Awareness Group is an organization on its way, and not a minute too soon. The group will touch on problems which directly affect everyone in the long run, and for the worst, if not confronted now. Cathy Hagarty, President of the Global Awareness Group and Commissioner for Recycling, plans to organize a group that will relay to students the problems of the earth and the seriousness of these problems.

Each member (with approximately fifteen members already) is quite serious about the organization. In fact, most of the members are in some way involved in community Earth Awareness committees. Keep an eye out for fundraisers and programs being planned for some time around Christmas.

Also, be sure to watch for flyers, which will announce dates and times for upcoming events, including possibly something special planned for the spring.

The club's sessions will address global awareness topics. Anybody can join. A meeting is a promising way to spend your time and recognize the problems and possible solutions to our earth's conservation problems.

NOVEMBER

Campus Paperback Bestsellers

1. Presumed Innocent, by Scott Turow. (Warner, $4.95.) A shocking tale of betrayal and murder.
2. The Authoritative Calvin & Hobbes, by Bill Watterson. (Andrews & McMeel, $12.95.) More Calvin & Hobbes cartoons.
3. Clear and Present Danger, by Tom Clancy. (Berkley, $5.95.) C.I.A.'s battle against Colombian drug cartels.
4. The Joy Luck Club, by Amy Tan. (Ivy, $5.95.) Destinies of Chinese immigrant women and their Chinese-American daughters.
5. All I Really Need to Know I Learned in Kindergarten, by Robert Fulghum. (Ivy, $5.95.) Uncommon thoughts on common things.
6. The Pillars of the Earth, by Ken Follett. (NAL Signet, $5.95.) Intriguing events surround the building of a cathedral.
7. A Brief History of Time, by Stephen W. Hawking. (Bantam, $9.95.) Theory on the origins of the cosmos.
8. The Dark Half, by Stephen King. (NAL Signet, $5.95.) After being destroyed by his writer, his pseudonym runs amok.
9. Codependent no More, by Melody Beattie. (Hazelden, $8.95.) Solving your own problems.
10. It's Always Something, by Gilda Radner. (Avon, $4.95.) Story of her life and fight with cancer.

Compiled by The Council of Higher Education from information supplied by college books throughout the country, October 15, 1990.

New & Recommended

Oldest Living Confederate Widow Tells All, by Allan Gurganus. (Ivy, $6.95.) Lucy Marsden's voice takes us through some of American history's most exciting events and times - from just before the Civil War until the mid-1980s.

The Second Shift, by Arlie Hochschild. (Avon, $9.95.) Landmark study that takes us into the homes of today's two-career parents to observe what really goes on at the end of the work day.

Tales from Margaritaville, by Jimmy Buffett. (Fawcett, $9.95.) Collection of short stories, some fictional, some not, presenting the roamer's twin loves - the sea and the road.

ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN PUBLISHERS/NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGE STORES

The Circus Is Coming To Campus!

On Saturday, November 10, 1990 at 7:00 p.m. we will be hosting the "Ultimate One Man Circus."

Bobby Hunt, a former star with Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus will be performing in 101 Main. He is a comic who performs trick bicycling, juggles upside down, eats fire and will include the audience in many of his feats.

This is an event sponsored by the Student Activities Office and is open free of charge, to all the Penn State Delaware Co. Community and their families.

Photo by: Diana Miceri

COMIC WORLD

2829 Edgmont Ave. • (Rte. 352)
Parkside, PA
(215) 872-7414

Comics Discounted

Electric Factory Concerts

TOWER THEATRE

69th & Ludlow St. • Upper Darby, Pa.
For information call 215-352-0313

SANTANA

Two Nights!
Friday & Saturday,
November 9 & 10 • 8pm

As we enter the 1990's, Carlos Santana begins his third decade as an "international artist" with the release of Spirits Dancing in the Flesh, his most definitive and evolved work to date. Santana recently celebrated 20 years of making music that is filled with an uncompromising spirit and dedication. With countless gold and platinum records, hit songs, ("Evil Ways," "Black Magic Women," "Oye Como Va," "Winning.") awards and critical accolades to their credit, Santana continues to change, search and grow.

THE GO-GO'S

Reunion Tour!
with Belinda! Charlot!e! Jane! Kathy! & Gina!
Saturday, November 17 • 8pm

Formed in Los Angeles in 1978, The Go-Go's went on to be one of the most popular all-girl groups ever. Playing a giddy mix of up-beat pop, new wave and dance music, The Go-Go's scored big with hits such as "Our Lips Are Sealed," "We Got the Beat," "Vacation," & "Head Over Heals." One of the first "MTV bands", The Go-Go's set a standard for mixing fashion, a strong visual image and beat that just wouldn't quit. The Go-Go's reunion will include Belinda Carlisle, Charlotte Caffey, Jane Wiedlin, Kathy Valentine and Gina Shock.

JANE'S ADDICTION

with The Buck Pets
Monday, November 19 • 8pm

Unquestionably one of the most important, exciting and popular bands of our day, Jane's Addiction make music that is, at once, loud, obnoxious, hypnotic, soothing and soulful. On a limited engagement tour of the U.S., Jane's Addiction plays the Tower Theatre on Monday, November 19. With almost no mainstream radio support, the band's latest record Ritual De Lo Habitual vaulted into Billboard's Top 30. On tour, the band promises to surround the senses, combining art, sound and emotion.

Want an Earning Experience?

Don't write home for money. Write Reader's Digest. Send us your funniest true story about college life, and if it appears in "Campus Comedy," you'll earn $400.

Submissions should be typewritten and no more than 300 words. Include your name, address, telephone number and the mailing date on each item you send. Contributions cannot be acknowledged or returned and become our property on payment.

Send your stories to:
Reader's Digest
Box 200
Pleasantville, N.Y. 10570

I thought I was adept at late, but I was outdone one spring by two college students. Their tale of a New York interstate. "Fast they sat in lawn chairs, a cooler at their feet and a sign that read: "Lauderdale. Riders now being accepted."

My friend Donna, who normally gets good grades, had done poorly in one of her courses. In an attempt to prepare her parents, she jokingly told her mother, "If you see an unfamiliar letter on my report card, remember it's my first initial."

As the time neared for grades to be sent home, Donna began to worry. Her worst fears were confirmed one evening when she called home and her cheer, "Hi, Mom!" was met by a stony, "Hello, Frank."

Offended by today's lack of courtesy, a freshman decided to address the issue in her weekly English essay. The composition, titled "Chivalry Is Dead," was returned with the instructor's notation: "Chivalry is not only dead, it is also misspelled."

In an opera course I was taking, one of the college's star athletes would doze off every day just as the final bell rang and snore until the final bell. One day he walked in late, stopping his lecture in mid-sentence, the professor smiled wryly. "You shouldn't be late, Mike," he remarked. "You know you need your sleep."

After handing back a test on which my accounting students had done poorly, I started to lecture them. "A word to the wise..." Before I could continue, a student who had made less than an outstanding grade asked, "Is it all right for the rest of us to listen to you?"

At college I fell into a cycle of classes, studying, working and sleeping. I didn't realize how long I had neglected writing my family until I received the following note: "Dear son—your mother and I enjoyed your last letter, of course, we were much younger then and more impressionable. Love, Dad."

My professor at Central Michigan University was lecturing enthusiastically when she noticed that the class was writing feverishly, trying to keep up with her. "Everyone stop writing," she said. "I want you to listen and understand what I say. You don't have to copy everything verbatim. Any questions?"

"Yes," piped up one student. "How do you spell verbatim?"

