Mime Artist Arterberry Offers Comedy, Audience Involvement

The nationally acclaimed mime artist, Trent Arterberry, will perform at Delco on Tuesday, September 24, at 11:30 AM in the Main student lounge. The program is being sponsored by the Student Activities Committee.

A proven crowd-pleaser, Arterberry has developed a unique American style of mime that is both highly entertaining and universal in appeal. Arterberry's fast-paced performance is a dynamic blend of mime, comedy, and audience interaction that has amazed and delighted audiences around the world.

Giving over one hundred performances a year, Arterberry appears at colleges, performing arts centers, and business conferences across the country.

In December of 1989, he starred in New York and Washington, D.C. in a role written for him in "The Christmas Revels." This past January he appeared as a headline attraction on the SS Norway Comedy Theme Cruise.

Admission to Arterberry's performance at Penn State Delaware County is free. For more information contact Tammy Zampagna, Student Activities Coordinator, at Extension 281.
