Scorsese Masters Yet Another Film

By Jamie Wismer

Martin Scorsese's fourteenth feature film, Cape Fear, is a visual and emotional sensation. From the first scene until the last, the movie keeps the viewer on the edge of his/her seat.

Starring Nick Nolte, Jessica Lang, and Robert DeNiro, Cape Fear is a remake of the 1962 thriller originally starring Gregory Peck and Robert Mitchum. The story is about Max Cady (DeNiro), a convicted rapist just released from prison. Cady goes to Florida to stalk his defending attorney and his family, resulting in a two hour, edge-of-your-seat thriller.

Scorsese is in top directorial form for this film. Following in the tradition of Goodfellas, Raging Bull,

Be A Video Producer

By Liz Russo

The objective of the Media Project is to "have fun while you learn." Being part of the Media Project is a remarkable experience for communications majors who are serious about film-making. It's an excellent opportunity to write, direct, and to create films. It also teaches students how to use the audio/video equipment, for which the staff and student trainers provide special assistance.

The latest project the group is working on is a video for Barrier Awareness, a non profit organization which aims to educate the public about the needs and rights of the handicapped. The film's goal is to make the public aware of the challenges faced by handicapped people everyday. Examples include handicapped parking, ramps, and entrances which are useless due to improper design.

On a much lighter note, the Media Project is making a film on student life (or lack of). This parody is done in good taste and will involve faculty, students, and clubs.

Thus, the Media Project members are creating exciting films now and will plan to do so in the future.

Anyone majoring in Communications and interested in video production should join ASAP.

The Media Project officers are:
President: David Rhoades
Vice President: Al Rickson
Secretary: Pauline Batter.

The club meets every Friday, 12:30-1:20 in Rm 128 LLC (Instructional Services Office).

and Taxi Driver, Cape Fear has all of the wild camera shots and stylish filming that made Scorsese famous.

Robert DeNiro, portraying the character of Max Cady, gives a stellar performance. It has Oscar written all over it. Nick Nolte and Jessica Lang also give incredible performances, but are overshadowed by DeNiro's intensity. Newcomer, Juliette Lewis, who play the role of the defense attorney's daughter, makes an incredible first performance.

A violent and stylish movie, with unexpected religious overtones, Cape Fear is another great film from one of America's best directors. *****

Student Activities: 'Let Us Entertain You'

By James Doolittle

The Student Activities Committee of Penn State Delco has a slate of activities planned for the upcoming spring semester of 1992. With the end of winter and approach of spring, the activities planned by SAC will be as interesting as they are involving, and will ensure a fun-filled end for the school year.

The continuing Delco Funnies series will bring a number of wildly entertaining comedians and magicians to the campus this spring. It all starts out with comedian Eddie Feldman on January 22nd and continues with hypnotist Ramelle MaCoy on January 29th, musician/comedian Paul Order on March 25th, and comedian Greg Morton on April 8th. As usual, the Delco Funnies will bring the best in entertainment to the campus next semester.

SAC's Cultural Events programming will welcome two culturally diverse acts to the campus in the spring. Pop/folk singer Janet McLaughlin will come to the campus on February 27th to perform her special blend of vocal skill and guitar prowess. Her strong vocals and excellent songwriting will make her a performer you won't want to miss. The Alpha Omega Players, a national touring company that has performed more than 11,000 times since its inception in 1967, will perform on campus on April 16th. These two fine acts will provide students with an entertaining, yet cultural forum for learning.

February is Black History Month, and SAC has a number of events planned. On February 19, "The Black History Show" will be performed by Freedom's Theater on campus. Teju, a storyteller who uses percussive instruments with an energized style to help unfold his folk tales will perform on February 26th, while the AFRO One Dance, Drama and Drum Theater will perform on February 28th. All of these events will provide students with a unique view of African history not only in America, but around the world.

A number of other events are being planned at the moment, including events for Asian-Pacific Week and Spring Week, along with the annual Great College Drive-In. All in all, spring semester '92 will be filled with great events for the serious, or not-so-serious student.

Take Your Dearest Friend To Lunch at Lima Pizza

Dianna, Tammy, and Anna are regulars at the new and improved Lima Pizza, located at 1165-A West Baltimore Pike (south of Granite Run Mall). The restaurant, which has been open for approximately 5 years, has just expanded itself to a dine-in restaurant, that serves far more than pizza.

According to Cheryl Palmer (friendliest waitress around!), the pizzeria restaurant makes homemade pizza dough daily. Their menu ranges from pizza, pasta, and hoagies, to burgers, dinner platters, and sandwiches. And, for those light eaters, they have pita bread specials AND a garden fresh salad bar that is absolutely killer! Although lunch time is the earliest that we visit, there is a breakfast menu which starts at 6 am weekdays and 7 am weekends.

Come one! Come all! The friendly, social atmosphere caters to everyone from executive professionals to (poor-pennyles) college students. The sounds of soft rock music in the background adds to the already pleasant surroundings. Speaking of poor-pennyles college students, the lunch time specials here are quite affordable. For example, on Friday, a mini-pizza, your choice of soup, French fries or salad, and a medium drink, will run you only $4.50. And let us tell you, they are chowness!

So, for a good meal, friendly and quick service, and affordable prices, bring your friends, family, and colleagues to Lima Pizza. Manny and Cheryl are waiting for you!
