

Action, Events At Carter Games

By Kewana Walker

The fourth annual "Marcel Carter" tournament is being held on April 21 in the school gym. The game starts at 3:30pm and everyone is welcome to attend. The tournament is sponsored by the Black Student League (BSL).

Who is eligible to play? Anyone who attends or attended Penn State. Also, Glenn Mills/ Community Center in Chester and the Franklin Mint Players will participate. In addition there will be a co-ed faculty vs. students game.

The BSL is looking for support from such colleges as Cheyney, Neumann, DCCC, Widener, West Chester, and Penn State Ogontz campus. They will be having two bake sales to pay for the tee-shirts for the game. They also will be getting in touch with radio personalities and publications through the business office.

For those of you who don't know who Marcel Carter was, he was a student at Penn State Delaware County until 1992 and played on the basketball team.

"Marcel was fun, caring, cheerful, and loving. He was a friend to all who knew him and he loved basketball," said Nikitra Bailey.

Marcel Carter died in 1993. The annual game is held in memory of him. For this reason, all profits from the game will go to three cancer foundations across the Delaware Valley.

Students were asked about the idea behind the "Marcel Carter tournament." One student felt that it was "very important because it not only supports the cancer foundations, but it also gives students a chance to participate in celebration of a former student, Marcel Carter."

There will also be a "skills competition" in addition to the actual game. The competition will consist of a slam dunk contest and a three point shooting contest. Prizes have not yet been announced, but it will be a great opportunity to come out and show everybody what kind of skills you have.

Happy, hungry students line up for lunch in the Common cafeteria.

CLUB UPDATE:

Membership Drives Attract Students

By Bob Lewis

Now that winter is behind us, it's time to look forward to the warm Spring weather.

The student activity clubs and organizations are busy doing just that. Activities involving all members of the student body are being planned.

ASO - Pretzel sales will continue in the main building, Monday, Wednesday, Friday, outside room 101, 10:30 'till 1:30.

Camera Club - Pictures will be taken at the Spring Fling dance on April 1. Details concerning cost and volunteer sign-up will be discussed at the next club meeting. Contact Pauline Ferzetti for further information.

Cheerleading - At their last meeting the club members decided on a change to their constitution. Try outs will be mandatory in order to make the squad. At the Freshman Orientation, a table will be made available to attract potential candidates. A possible fundraiser for new uniforms is planned.

French Club - Normally the French Club meets on the second floor of the Commons. Recently it was decided to wait until after Spring Break to re-establish a meeting schedule.

Karate Club - On February 28 the Karate Club completed testing for its next level of achievement. The results will be posted. The club is interested in obtaining new members. Information concerning the club is posted in the hallway outside the faculty offices in the Commons.

Keystone Society - The Keystone Society is now planning a Voter Registration Drive on Campus. Students are encouraged to participate. The Society feels that the ballot is the most important way a citizen has to participate in their government.

Lion Ambassadors - Thirty new members came to the last meeting.

Meetings are held every other Monday during common hour, on the second floor of the Commons. All students with a 2.5 GPA or better are encouraged to join. Memberships are open until further notice.

Lion's Eye - The staff of the Lion's Eye were pleased with the response to the Literary Magazine they recently completed and distributed. The staff is now considering another issue of the magazine to be completed and distributed this Spring Semester.

Nittany Christian Fellowship - The Fellowship recently elected Laura Pledger chairperson. The Nittany Christian Fellowship has had a good turnout, and encourages all students to attend their meeting and participate in the discussions. The Fellowship meets Wednesdays at 12:30 and Thursdays at 11:30, in room 219 Main.

SGA - The next SGA meeting is Monday, April 10, 12:30, in the second floor of the Commons.

Bob Purdy, DUS Advisor, ponders the Nittany Lion while waiting for potential new students to finish their placement testing.
