

Eye on Campus

AROUND CAMPUS BRIEFLY

Career Services: New name, new home

Career Counseling and Academic Advising have moved their offices.

Career Counseling, which used to be located on the second floor of the Commons building, has merged and moved with Academic Advising to Room 112 of the Main building.

"We found Career Counseling and Academic Advising go hand in hand", said Sharmon Bryant, Career Services coordinator. "We moved to better serve the students. It makes it easier on the students if the buildings are in the same place."

The decision was made by CEO of the campus, Dr. Ed Tomeszko, and Director of Academic Affairs Dr. George Franz. The office, which was officially occupied Sept. 7, will still be offering the same great services it always has.

If you have any questions or concerns about your career choices or academic advising, please stop by Main building, Room 112, and see Sharmon Bryant, Career Services coordinator; Celia Lang, career counselor; or Sally Ent, career specialist.

— SADE MITCHELL

Tuition deadline nears

A reminder to all recipients of financial aid: The end of September is the cutoff date to pay your semester tuition.

If bills are not paid by the billing date, registration will be canceled and professors have the authority to withhold grades and exempt students from exams.

— CHARLOTTE BARR

Cimbala hosts Faculty Forum

There will be a Faculty Forum Oct. 6 hosted by Dr. Stephen Cimbala from 12:30 - 1:20 in the Lower level Vairo Library Lounge.

Faculty Forum is a series of talks presented by faculty on their research, teaching, or vocational interests. Each presenter speaks for about 20-30 minutes with time for questions, comments, discussion.

Cimbala, professor of political science, will be talking about the current political climate. There will be time for questioning and discussion after each speaker.

The Penn State Alumni Association is holding a flea market Sunday, Oct. 10.

The event will be held in the Penn State parking lot from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is free and food will be sold, along with many other things. All proceeds go to the scholarship fund.

— BRIDGET MUNDY

Acme receipts are valuable

Save all of your Acme supermarket receipts and turn them into Sylvia Schaffer. Acme participates in a scholarship fund with Penn State Delco. For every receipt turned in, Acme gives 1 percent of that purchase to the fund. So keep those grocery receipts and drop them off in the financial aid office.

— CHARLOTTE BARR

Bone up on the election

There is a new library Web site on presidential election sources. A student wanting to find out more about the election and the issues surrounding it can log onto from the library home page or go directly to it at : <http://www.de2.psu.edu/faculty/saw4/tips/election2004.html>

It includes links to information on the candidates position on the issues, advice on watching the upcoming presidential debates, sites that check the facts behind candidate speeches and political advertising. Students who have assignments related to the election or just have an enthusiastic interest in politics might want to visit the site.

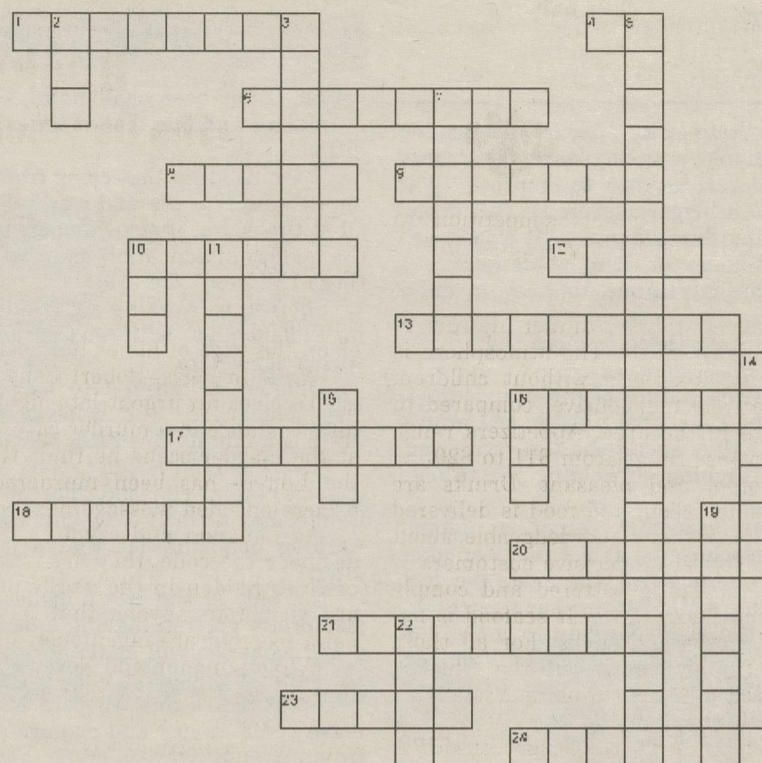

In November the library will also have a display of books on the election to accompany the web site.

— BRIDGET MUNDY

Job-search help available

Career Services will hold an information session on enhancing the job search Thursday. This meeting is

LION'S EYE CROSSWORD

ACROSS

- 1 New room upstairs in the Commons Building
- 4 7th tone of the musical scale
- 6 Man-powered vehicle consisting of a seat and one wheel
- 8 An area of the beach that's covered with rocks
- 9 Racecar spelled backwards
- 10 A ring usually goes here
- 12 Pb is this element
- 13 Popular music band which filed a lawsuit against Napster
- 16 First name of captain who replaced Captain Murphy on Seatah 2021
- 17 Hit movie from the 80's starring 2 current celebrity governors
- 18 Equine is to horses as this is to cows
- 20 Official Term for Hackysacking
- 21 What you're working on
- 23 It's wet
- 24 European trough which offers its drinkers sickness

DOWN

- 2 It's big. It's heavy. It's wood.
- 3 Looks like a walrus without the tusks
- 5 18-credit minor offered on campus which allows you to go overseas
- 7 Smells like almonds but is probably not a good idea to ingest
- 10 Penguins don't do this
- 11 Club Shampoo on Wednesday nights
- 14 Last name of Ren from Ren and Stimpy
- 15 Egyptian shrubbery used in making tea
- 16 Baths happen here
- 19 Raw sliced fish
- 22 Doors do this

Stuck??? Need more hints?

Email me: Andrew Walter aaw147@psu

Answers appear in next issue

Last issue's answers

Across: (3) Alf, (5) Ebb, (8) Cougar, (11) Java Joes, (13) Meatwad, (15) Fred, (16) Shark, (18) Sparks, (22) Bumble bee, (25) gazebo, (26) Slimer, (27) Bins, (28) Lobe.

Down: (1) Godzilla, (2) Hiccup, (4) Ferret, (6) Snorks, (7) Bass, (9) Rabid, (10) Basketball, (12) HDF5, (17) KGB, (19) Pipe, (20) Zebra, (21) Whale, (22) Barbs, (23) Pow, (24) Hobo

To Our Readers

This issue of the Lion's Eye, due on campus Sept. 21, was delayed in production due to factors beyond the staff's control.

We apologize for the delay and any inconvenience it may have caused. The next issue of the Lion's Eye is due on campus, on schedule, Oct. 12.

open to all seniors graduating in Fall 2004 and Spring 2005.

The session will be held from 11:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. in the Commons Building's large conference room.

— SADE MITCHELL

eDiscover Workshop on tap

Career Services will hold an eDiscover Workshop Thursday, Sept. 28, in the computer lab, Room 105 in the Classroom building.

The workshop will run from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The online eDiscover workshop is one of the first steps in the career planning process: learning about oneself and making long-range goals.

eDiscover provides an assessment to identify occupations, program study, training options, and job and placement preparation. eDiscover is considered essential for those who have not yet made definitive career choices and for those exploring occupations and graduate schools.

Alumni hold flea market

The Penn State Alumni Association will hold a flea market Sunday, Oct. 10. The event will be held in the Penn State parking lot from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Admission is free and food will be sold, along with many other things. All proceeds go to the scholarship fund.

— CHARLOTTE BARR