Have you signed up yet for PSUTXT?

Penn State Brandywine encourages students, faculty, staff, and parents to enroll in PSUTXT, an easy and accessible system that lets you know via cell phone when classes are canceled due to weather conditions or if the campus has an emergency situation. Sign up now for PSUTXT and, when necessary, we will send a text message alert directly to your cell phone and/or e-mail account.

To register, visit <http://newswires.psu.edu/> and click on the PSUTXT REGISTER button at the bottom of the page to sign up. Your subscription is free for this service, but your phone plan may charge for receiving text messages.

To receive only messages pertaining to Penn State Brandywine, select "Brandywine alerts" and deselect "University Park alerts." To verify that you have subscribed, you will receive a text message at the cell phone number you provided. Then, follow the instructions you receive in order to validate your subscription. You can also subscribe to receive these messages via e-mail using the same website referenced above. All of our other emergency communication systems (e.g., student hotline, television stations, staff emergency phone chain, etc.) will remain in effect. If you have any questions about the PSUTXT emergency notification system, please call 610-892-1211.

Attention Student Community Reminders About Campus Driving Regulations

The campus speed limit is 13 mph.

Always be cautious when driving on the campus or pulling out of your parking space.

STATE LAW: If a pedestrian is in the crosswalk - you must come to a complete stop. Pedestrians have the right of way.

Reminder that all student parking is in the white-lined spaces, not yellow-lined spaces and parking in front of the Main building is prohibited during normal business hours.

These parking violations are subject to ticketing.
