The campus Career/Internship Fair took place on Tuesday, March 23 from 11:30-1:30 in the Commons Athletic Center here on the Brandywine Campus.

Many students attended and made connections with a variety of employers from the greater Philadelphia area. The fair, sponsored by Academic Advising, is a regular event put into action to aid students in finding jobs once they graduate from Penn State.

“We have resources and events to help prepare them,” says Christine Allen, one of the counselors in the Academic Advising office. “Students need our encouragement. They may be feeling discouraged about the job market and just want to give up without trying.”

A large number of PSU Brandywine students filed into the gym during the fair with resumes in hand to greet the over -40 employers who attended the event, many of whom were interested in talking to all academic majors.
