Movie Review: The Fighter

By John Henry - Lion's Eye Staff Writer- jah5698@psu.edu

"The Fighter" starring Mark Wahlberg and Christian Bale is a story of an underdog boxer who battles through pain and criticism en route to a boxing championship. Mark Wahlberg- (Micky) is a boxer living in Lowell Massachusetts who is overshadowed by his brother Christian Bale (Dicky) because he knocked down Sugar Ray Leonard and has earned the name "Pride of Lowell." Now that Dicky's glory days are over, his goal is to help his little brother Micky achieve the same or even greater success than himself. This goal becomes very tough because Dicky is a drug addict, which prevents him from helping Micky train for fights. Their mother who is also Micky's manager shows little respect toward him because she is still reliving both his mother and brother's poor treatment of his fights that they signed him up for. Micky's to exceed his brother's irresponsible actions and he likes in a bar one night named Charlene, she is leading him in the wrong direction and he
