

Entertainment

Iron Man Finale Kicks off Summer Movie Season

Iron Man Expected to Start the Season with a BANG!

Robert Downey Jr, Brains of "Iron Man" Stands with his creation

PAUL ALBERCI

Lion's Eye Staff Writer, paa5102@pdu.edu

It appears that this may be Stark's toughest opponent yet in the movies. This Mandarin character is based on one of the original comic's most notable villains and is considered to be Stark's arch rivals which would make sense why this appears to be Tony Stark's toughest fight yet. It also appears that Tony's relationship with his assistant Pepper Potts (who is once again being portrayed by Gwyneth Paltrow) escalates to the point where Stark claims he has to protect the one thing he can't live without and immediately points at Ms. Potts and claims that she is that one thing. Stark's best friend and Air force liaison "Rhody" (portrayed by Don Cheadle) will also be returning with his new upgraded version of the "War-Machine" armor from the second movie, only this time it will be in more patriotic armor with a red, white, and blue color scheme.

These trailers were not sparing on the action. We see a scene where news helicopters drop open their doors and have multiple rocket pods as well as machine guns mounted on the side. They are shown destroying Stark's cliff-side home, causing mass chaos on the inside with many of the different Iron Man suits being destroyed and all the people inside, including Stark and Potts flying around from the explosions. There is another intense scene where Air Force One is going down and many of the people on board are sucked out with Iron Man in hot pursuit after diving out of the falling plane.

Lastly we see Stark and Rhody over what appears to be docks of some sort on a water source when Rhody tells Stark that calling in back-up is Stark's job. Suddenly out of the night sky, a fleet of various Iron Man suits fly in each varying from the suit next to it in size and details. At the sight of the suits, Stark merely replies "there's my boys". It is not made clear if these are actual people in these suits or if they are all drones of some sort. All that is known is that fans of the movies should expect to see more than one variation on the suit. With all this just revealed in the first two trailers, it's obvious why this is going to be the start of the summer movie season.

The question is, will Stark's extensive knowledge and the abilities of his suits that helped him throughout the other movies be enough to stop his latest foe? Or, will the Mandarin succeed in whatever he is planning and eliminate Iron Man once and for all? Well don't ask me! Go out to the movies and see it for yourself! Iron man 3 will be in theaters everywhere starting May 3.

Kutcher Raises Ratings on the Revamped 'Two and A Half Men'

MARK KRANTZ

Lion's Eye Staff Writer
mak5690@psu.edu

Two years after Charlie Sheen left the critically acclaimed show Two and Half Men, the show seems to be coming along strong. The new addition of Walden Schmidt portrayed by Ashton Kutcher gives the comedy a new dimension. Walden is a character that is a billionaire Internet entrepreneur who has recently been divorced and is looking for love. Although he does not have Charlie's comedic wit or manly prowess, he brings in a wide variety of audiences to watch. He conveys a man lonely man lost in his money.

With the immergence of Kutcher, Alan Harper played by Jon Cryer, is the true comedian and heart of the show. He portrays a middle aged divorced man who has a son. He is extremely awkward with women and looks to mooch off others in a loving way.

Cryer is an extraordinary actor whose comedic timing literally makes me laugh out loud even when watching the show by myself. Without him, I do not believe the show would be as successful as it is today. Although I still watch the show, many of the Two and Half Men faithful miss Sheen's easy going personality and lady's man ways. They feel he gave the show an extra pizzazz and a sense of excitement with his day-to-day habits. Even though many people have stopped watching the show ratings have gone up 13 percent since Sheen left the show.

I believe with Kutcher's Hollywood personality and Cryer's comedic ways the show will continue to be on for many more years to come.

Summer Blockbusters

An early look at some of this summer's hottest, most anticipated releases!!!

The Hangover: Part III
In Theaters May 24
Directed by Todd Phillips.

Starring Bradley Cooper, Zack Galifinakis, Ed Helms, Kevin Jeong, Mike Tyson, Mike Epps

The Internship
In theaters June 7
Directed by Shawn Levy

Starring Vince Vaughn, Owen Wilson, and Joanna Garcia

Vince Vaughn and Owen Wilson are salesmen whose careers have been torpedoed by the digital world. Trying to prove they are not obsolete, they defy the odds by talking their way into a coveted internship at Google

The Lone Ranger
In theaters July 3
Directed by Gore Verbinski

Starring Johnny Depp, Armie Hammer and Helena Bonham Carter
Native American spirit warrior Tonto recounts the untold tales that transformed John Reid, a man of the law, into a legend of justice.

p10