11:30 to 1:00+ in the Tomezsko Classroom Building Lounge

FEATURING POET

ETHEL RACKIN

We anticipate the campus literary magazine, Penn in Hand, will be distributed at the event.

The LiTap^aLooZ^a Festival invites one and all to PARTICIPATE in the "OPEN MIKE" READING.

Bring your own creative works and plan to read, recite, chant, narrate, rap, sing, croon, intone, declaim! Or just come to cheer and stomp for our guest readers and your friends.

One cannot cheerfully eat poetry or prose: there will be refreshments.

Ethel Rackin published her debut collection of poems, The Forever Notes, in Parlor Press's Free Verse Editions series, fall 2012. Her work has been featured in notable literary journals such as Colorado Review, Court Green, The American Poetry Review, Poetry East, and Volt. She earned her MFA from Bard College and her PhD in English literature from Princeton University. She has taught at Penn State Brandywine, Haverford College, and Bucks County Community College, where currently she is an assistant professor. In 2013, she was chosen to serve as the "celebrity judge" of the Montgomery County Poet Laureate competition.

Become the Next Fair Trade College or University

ALI AQUILINO

Lion's Eye Campus News Editor, ara5158@psu.edu

Help Your School Become the Next Fair Trade College or University! Penn State Brandywine has become the eighth Fair Trade University in the nation. In honor of this title, Brandywine will be hosting the Fair Trade Colleges and Universities Mid-Atlantic Fair Trade Student training workshop on Saturday, April 6th from 10 AM to 4 PM. The workshop will teach students, faculty, and administration how to organize campaigns to become the next Fair Trade College or University.

Brandywine Associate Professor of Earth Sciences and founder of PSU Brandywine's Fair Trade Trailblazers, Dr. Laura Guertin, will be guiding the workshop.

Dr. Guertin will be discussing goal setting, strategies for maintaining participation in fair trade activities through the summer and into the upcoming fall semester, addressing issues like student recruitment and sustainability, as well as working with campus food vendors and going through the application process for schools interested in becoming designated Fair Trade Colleges or Universities. Lunch will be served.

Also joining Dr. Guertin will be National Coordinator of Fair Trade Campaigns Billy Linstead Goldsmith and Sarah Demartino, former leader of the Brandywine Fair Trade Trailblazers and current leader of the Fair Trade Penn State Movement at University Park.
