

The Weather Bureau's 30-day outlook for June calls for temperatures to average above seasonal normals from the Rocky Mountain States eastward to the Mississippi. Below normal temperatures are anticipated east of the Appalachian and in the vicinity of the Sierra Nevada mountains. In other areas temperatures are predicted to average near normal. Precipitation is expected to be subnormal in the eastern half of the country, except above normal in Florida and New England. In the western half of the nation, generally near normal amounts are indicated.

State Reserve Winner
