

How-to-Do-It Ideas Garden Days Topic By New Regulations

Several demonstrations and other how-to-do-it features are listed in the annual Garden Days program at Penn State June 19-21, the general chairman, Prof. Robert P. Meahl, announced. This year's program will not have a flower show, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. McCready, Allentown, with considerable experience in garden clubs, will demonstrate flower arrangements. David G. Leach, Brookville, will discuss rhododendrium hybrids and crossbreeding. Dr. Dayl Walker, Penn State horticulturist, will explain plant breeding for amateurs, and Prof. Peter B. Pfall, also of Penn State, will demonstrate making corsages from garden flowers.

Egg Combinations Are Picnic Hazard

Hard-cooked egg combinations in the picnic basket can be a spoilage hazard, Helen L. Denning, extension nutritionist of the Pennsylvania State University, warns.

Stuffed eggs and egg mixtures in sandwiches and salads must be refrigerated from the time they're prepared until they're eaten.

Use top-quality eggs for hard-cooking. The flavor is good and the yolk well-centered for stuffing or eating out of hand.

Organized labor has asked Congress to extend the wage-and-hour laws to 9,500,000 more workers in service industries, agriculture, construction, and other jobs.

Women attending the annual program will have accommodations available on the campus.

DRAGGED TO DEATH

STANTON, Ky. — Charles Norton Crowe, 82-year-old farmer, was killed recently by a runaway mule team which dragged him about 100 yards on a gravel road. Crowe had been gathering corn and his young mules apparently became frightened by the noise when the wagon wheels hit the gravel road. He fell between the animals on the wagon tongue and onto the road.

FFA, received the C S Buchart and Associates Award as the graduating senior who "by his past records shows the greatest promise in the fields of architecture and engineering."

County Milk Income Over $23 Millions

Lancaster County's cow population stepped forward again during 1955 as a major wage-earner, with County income from milk $23,069,347 during the year.

In the County, over 61,000 cows were milked during 1955, producing a record 405,040,000 lbs of quality milk. Another estimated $4,923,547 was paid dairy plant employees. "the more I use my
the better I like it."

That's what one owner of a ROTO-BALER had to say!

"And," he continues, "I don't have to worry about rain. I know the hay is safe in the bale. I also like baling the hay on the tough side to save leaves."

The ROTO-BALER, built by Allis-Chalmers, costs less to buy... less to run. And remember — there's nothing like round bales for protecting the quality of your hay!

See us NOW — be ready for your next cutting of hay.
