wax figures, set in actual rooms he occupied. Pillars sweep high to the dome of the sanctuary, and here, it is said, one may find scores and scores of crutches and other aids discarded by those who reported miraculous cures granted after prayers at the gold and glass case containing the heart of Brother Andre.

Restaurants here are superb, offering an array of foods from France to the Orient, or, plain American ham and eggs.

There's cordiality in Montreal, a high regard for the American from south of the border. Yet it is a city that, should you look far enough, can be as foreign as any in the world, and still leaves the American dollar worth 97 cents.

Eva Gabor Stars At Ephrata in "Blithe Spirit"

At the Legion Star Playhouse, now is the fabulous Eva Gabor in Noel Coward's brilliant comedy "Blithe Spirit". The second production of the new arena theatre at the Ephrata Legion Park "Blithe Spirit" stars one of the most glamorous figures of the stage and screen. Closing this weekend, the light summer comedy features two prominent Broadway players presently touring with Miss Gabor, Miss Kaye Lyder, and playing Charles as Miss Gabor's lead man, will be Peter Ferster, his outstanding career includes a brilliant record in England, both in touring and repertory companies. He starred in "As You Like It", "Guest in the House" Hollywood called upon his talents for such pictures as "The Desert Fox" and "The Statesman" among others. Recently he has scored successfully on Lux Video Theatre, Robert Montgomery Presents and Armstrong Circle Theatre.

The star of "Blithe Spirit", the incomparable Eva Gabor, starred in the Broadway production of "The Little Glass Clock" and is the youngest of the fabulous Gabor sisters. Her stage debut came about in the typically theatrical fashion Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II just happened to see her on the screen while trying out a new television set. The next thing she knew, Hungarian born Miss Gabor was signed to appear in The Happy Time. Since then, her career has sky-rocketed and that exciting combination of charm, grace, talent and magnetism has made her a star in each of the entertainment media. Her latest film is Artists and Models in which she appears with Martin and Lewis.

Dairy Herd Improvement Meets Listed

On July 9 at 7 p. m. at the Wilbur Pollock Farm, located three-quarters of a mile west of the Buck, will be the scene of a "Twilight Meeting" to be held in the interest of dairy herd improvement. This meeting, sponsored by the Southeastern Penna. Artificial Breeding Cooperative, will be highlighted with Harvey Shaffer, dairy specialist, of the Pennsylvania State University as the main speaker. In addition there will be judging contests with prizes, other short items of interest and dairy refreshments.

Although the theme of the meeting will be "calf raising" most of the major points of successful dairying will be touched on during the various phases of the meeting. As a practical demonstration of the merits of artificial breeding, now over 12 years old in this area, the entire Pollock herd of cows will be on exhibition.

A recent report from the United States Department of Agriculture showed that nearly 25% of the nation's dairy cattle were being bred artificially and Pennsylvania ranks first with nearly 47%. Another U. S. D. A. report shows that there are 79 bull studs maintained by dairy breeding enterprises. Farmer Cooperatives own and operate 60 of these 79 studs. In 1955 these 60 farmer Cooperatives inseminated 72% of all cows bred artificially in the United States.

The Southeastern Penna. Artificial Breeding Cooperative, operating in this area, ranks 13th among the Cooperative organizations in the nation having bred 101,705 cows in '55. However, with its average of 4,238 cows bred per sire in service, it stands second in the nation. The S. P. A. B. C. also ranks near the top in percentage of services to proven sires.

Other meetings in this area include July 10, Elmer D. Matthews farm, five miles north-east of Downingtown, Harvey Shaffer, speaker, July 11, Daniel Harris farm, seven miles north of Newark, July 13, Amos Hershey farm, one and one-half miles northwest of White Horse, Delmar Young, dairy specialist of The Pennsylvania State University, speaker.

CART BEFORE HORSE
Lancaster, Pa. — Swerving his truck to avoid a collision with a horse-drawn vehicle, Sanford A. Landis wound up with the horse in the back of his pickup truck. The horse reared and his front legs landed in the body of the truck. No one was injured, but the truck received estimated $200 damages.

Warm Weather Adds Size to Crop of Fruit

HARRISBURG — Warm weather added size to all fruits on Pennsylvania farms and made possible a start on harvesting both sweet and red sour cherries for local consumption in southern counties, the State Department of Agriculture said today.

Picking of red cherries for canning and freezing is scheduled to start next week in Southern Pennsylvania commercial fruit areas. The state crop this year will be only about half of last year due to the May freezes, the Department said.

Weather Averages Normal
The Federal-State weather and crop summary for the week ended Monday said weather averaged normal, below average at the middle of the period, much above at the end. Good working conditions prevailed generally on Pennsylvania farms. Scattered thunderstorms were general over the State, but the southeastern and southwestern sections had very little rain. Some storms brought high winds that flattened grains and damaged other crops in localized areas.

Barley Yields Good
Harvesting of barley is now general in southern and central counties, with good yields reported to the Department. Wheat is ripening rapidly with good prospects. Oats are heading and corn made good progress. Poor curing weather resulted in loss of both tonnage and quality in hay crops in some areas.

Fresh vegetable markets over the State are now receiving good quantities of Pennsylvania grown beets, broccoli, cabbage, onions, radishes, lettuce, snap beans and carrots. Tomatoes for processing sized rapidly during the week. Stands are generally good. Sweet corn for processing showed satisfactory development.
