Feed a High Quality-Laying Mash.

Ġ

Feed the very best quality laying mash you can find in your locality. Try to buy it at the best possible price. If you. are feeding 'a "price feed" and not getting top lay, I suggest that you put one pen of pullets onto the best quality mash you can find and see what happens. You should see a difference m two to four weeks.

It is a mistake to feed a ration that contains coarsely ground particles of grain that the birds can sort out from the rest of the mash. This usually causes poor production and trouble from cann-

Babcock Customers Well Informed. You have two advantages over your neighbor if you become a Babcock Bessie customer. One is you have one of America's really fine commerical layers and second, if you read our literature you will be well informed on what's going on in the poultry business.
