

Canada Imports More
U.S. Produce Crops

In 1956 Canada is reported to have imported about $90.3 million worth of U.S. fruits, compared with $76.6 million worth in 1955. Canadian imports of U.S. vegetables last year were valued at $56.3 million compared with $47.2 million in 1955.

Reduced production of fruit and vegetables in Canada last year is given as the reason for higher imports of these products.

Radiation Hazard
In Nuclear Attack
Bulletin Subject

How farmers and their families can protect themselves against radio-active fallout in case of a nuclear attack is highlighted in a bulletin just issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture entitled "Defense Against Radio-active Fallout on the Farm." The information deals with fallout as it relates to wartime emergency conditions.

Prepared in response to questions from farmers, the bulletin contains recommendations of scientists, engineers, public health officials, Civil Defense authorities and other specialists.

Single copies of "Defense Against Radioactive Fallout on the Farm," Farmers' Bulletin No. 2107, may be obtained free from the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

It's The Law

"It's the Law" with simple answers is offered by LANCASTER FARMING in cooperation with the Pennsylvania Bar Association. General interest questions are welcomed, and will be answered as soon as possible. Letters must be signed. Answers will not be published on a specified, requested day. Questions cannot be answered by mail, and LANCASTER FARMING will reject any inquiry which is not of general public interest. Address all inquiries to "It's the Law," LANCASTER FARMING Quarryville, Pa. (Fictitious initials will be used to protect the identity of the questions).

Q. Every time my sister gets intoxicated she tells me that if she ever got sick and went to the hospital, I would have to pay her bill. I am single and own no property, but have about $1500 in the bank. Could I be forced to pay her hospital bill?—I.N.

A. The laws of Pennsylvania impose no obligation on a sister to support a brother or sister. Assuming that your sister would eventually become hospitalized in a State institution, liability for all costs of her care would be imposed, in the following order (1) against her own real and personal property and (2) against the persons liable for her support. Since you would not be liable for your sister's support, you could not be forced to pay her hospital bills.

Q. If a man's wife leaves him for no reason, does he have to support her?—G. R.

A. The only reasonable cause justifying a husband in refusing to support his wife is conduct on her part which would be valid grounds for divorce. If the court should find that the wife deserted her husband, without reasonable cause, and persisted in such desertion for a period of more than two years, an order for support of the wife by the husband would be refused.

Q. If a mother wishes to give a home to her son, would it be best to put it in trust for him? How could he avoid paying inheritance and other taxes?—T. L. F.

A. The home may be conveyed to the son directly, and if accomplished before one year prior to death, it will be presumed not to be in contemplation of death, and no inheritance tax would be due thereon. However, such a conveyance would be subject to the Federal Gift Tax Law, and a gift tax return should be filed by both the donor and the donee.

Q. I have a yearly lease on the apartment where I live but I rarely have any hot water. Could I break the lease for this reason? How would I go about it?—M. R.

A. The tenant's right to break the lease would depend on its terms. If the lease provides that the landlord shall provide hot water, and the landlord fails to do so, the tenant would have the alternative of suing the landlord for damages for the breach of this covenant, or of treating the lease as terminated and removing from the premises.

If there is no provision in the lease guaranteeing hot water and no covenant that the premises will be kept in a tenable condition by the landlord, then the tenant is without remedy until the expiration of the term of the lease, at which time he may move from the premises.
