Summer-Time Cookies

by Mrs. Richard C. Spence

Cookies are a perfect compliment to a refreshing summer drink or they are just as perfect to serve as dessert for a picnic or an outdoor meal. And what is more perfect about them is that they can be made some cool morning when you are not rushed with a million other things, tucked away in plastic bags in the freezer, all ready to be eaten on the spur of the moment or packed with the picnic lunch.

It saves time too, to mix several kinds of cookies at one time, thereby eliminating the gathering together of all your ingredients and utensils several times.

Most cookies use the same basic ingredients. Baking several kinds of cookies at one time also enables you to pack a variety of cookies in one container.

Farm Pond Provides Water Supply For Grade "A" Milk

Will a farm pond supply the water to operate a farm? This question has been asked by a lot of people. William Huffman of Washington County believes the question already has been answered. He is certain that his farm pond, a sand filter, pump and chlorination system is going to mean plenty of pure, clear water for his dairy and home use for years to come.

Huffman, had been plagued with water shortages ever since he moved to the farm several years ago. His water supply became acute after he began spraying his 12-acre peach orchard. He and his cattle drinking water problems early included an FHA loan for the construction of a water system.

However, this didn't solve all of his water problems. The milk house still needed a safe water supply at the home. Things really came to a head when the inspector told him that he had to improve his milk water supply or be lowered from a Grade A to a Grade B milk rating. This would have had a disastrous effect on his milk check.

The most obvious solution was to improve the existing system by adding a top and filter. This would have worked except that it didn't always rain on order.

A little research showed that an additional filter, a simple chlorination unit might do the job.

The plan called for a sand filter, pump and chlorination unit. As the pump works, a small amount of chlorine (ordinary laundry bleach) is metered into the filtered water. This kills the bacteria in the water. A small amount at the house dechlorinates the water for drinking so it is taste free.

The unit was put into operation and was approved for Grade A dairy use by the county health department.

A safe water supply is absolutely essential for a Grade A dairy farm. Lack of a safe water supply means a potentially Grade A dairy farm would have to produce Grade B milk or go out of business completely. The simple and relatively inexpensive system may be the answer and key to the future for many dairy farmers.
