Some Preserving Questions Answered

Why do yellow wax beans turn dark when I can them? I use a pressure canner?

Perhaps the gauge on your pressure canner isn't accurate so you are over process- ing them. Ask your county home agent where the gauge may be checked.

If your water is very hard and contains iron this may effect the color. Adding a half tablespoon vinegar to each pint jar of beans may help keep the bright color

What makes jam ooze through the paraffin top?

Perhaps the layer of paraffin is too thick. One-eighth inch is thick enough If you pour the paraffin when the jam is quite cool then store the jam in a warm place, this leak may also occur.

Jam on the inside edge of the glass can cause a poor seal, then it may happen. It doesn't hurt the jam, but you may want to use these glasses first.

First Entries In For 1960 Penn. Farm Show

Harrisburg, August 21—Harry Wareham, Everett, Bedford County, and Richard L. Boyd & Sons, Glen Rock, York County, share honors as being the first Pennsylvanians to enter animals in the Pennsylvania Livestock Exposition

Ben Morgan, Penna. Livestock Exposition manager, said that both entries, dated the same day, arrived in the same mail. Both feeders will show swine.

Wareham has six Hampshire barrows entered in the carcass classes. Boyd & Sons will show a total of 25 hogs. Ten will be shown in a truckload lot class, and the remaining 15 will be shown as individual market barrows. All are Berkshires. The Penna Livestock Exposition will be held Nov 9 through 14 in the Pennsylvania Farm Show Building in Harrisburg. Premium offerings total more than $80,000.

Last year more than 3,000 animals from 22 states and Canada were exhibited at the "Keystone International."

This year major emphasis at the show will be placed on showing livestock breeders and feeders consumer de- will show a total of 25 hogs. Carcass classes have been expanded so that more feeders of swine, sheep and beef cattle can have their entries judged for meat qualities before and after slaughtering. Entries for the show close October 1. Premium lists may be obtained by writing: Pennsylvania Livestock Exposition, Farm Show Building, Harrisburg, Pa
