 tion as well as interesting, worthwhile work. Character development and good citizenship are their most significant goals.

Of the members in the county, 864 were enrolled in 46 Home Economics Clubs and 875 were enrolled in 22 Agriculture clubs. A total of 182 local club leaders volunteered their services to the young people.

By far the largest agriculture club in the county was dairying with a membership of 143 enrolled. In second place was the baby beef club with a membership of 115. The swine club's 79 enrollees were in fourth place following the 82 members of the flower club, but 69 of the swine clubbers completed their projects while only 44 of those in the flower club finished. Poultry club numbers were next in line with 75 entrants. Other clubs ranged from that number down to three each in the potato and soil and water conservation clubs.

In the Home Economics division, clothing and food projects were by far the most popular. Clothing clubs had a total of 538 members locally while 225 members enrolled in food clubs. The other 100 members are enrolled in all the other home economics clubs.

Nationally, 4-H Club Week will be highlighted in Washington, D. C., by six previously selected members who will present the annual 4-H "Report to the Nation." The report will summarize in story and pictures outstanding 4-H accomplishments and current projects. The three girls and three boys, while in the Nations Capital, expect to review the report with President Eisenhower at the White House. They also plan to visit Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, C. M. Ferguson, administrator of the Federal Extension Service, and various Senators and members of Congress on Capitol Hill.

4-H'ers everywhere will share honors with the 296,000 adult volunteer leaders who guide 4-H work in local communities throughout the 50 States and Puerto Rico. The main purposes of 4-H Club Week are to acquaint more young people with opportunities available to them through joining or forming 4-H clubs, to assist new members in starting projects in farming, homemaking, community service, and other activities; and to inform the public about 4-H aims and methods.

4-H Club Work locally is under the direction of the Lancaster County Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the Pennsylvania State University and the United States Department of Agriculture.

County Farmers Advised To Get Wheat Quotas

Any farmer who has seeded wheat for harvest as grain next summer but who does not have a wheat allotment or a feed wheat exemption should notify the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office of his estimated acreage, Landis G. Becker of the Lancaster County office said recently. In this way, county records can be established and steps can be taken to make such a farmer eligible for a wheat marketing card if he decides to sell any of his grain.

Under the wheat marketing quota program, any grower who produces more than 15 acres of wheat is subject to a penalty on any "excess" wheat harvested. The penalty must be paid before the wheat is eligible for marketing.

ed a ROUGHAGE Extender For Your Cows?

Hay is poor or just average in quality, or when it is in short supply, cows need the nutrient balance of Beacon Be-Co-Lass. Feeding four pounds of Be-Co-Lass daily will bring cows as close to lush pasture as possible in the barn feeding period. Be-Co-Lass is high in energy. It provides, through its high cut alfalfa and molasses content, unidentified energy needed by rumen bacteria. It carries 2,000 I.U. of Vitamin D₃ and 5,000 I.U. of vitamin A per pound. Be-Co-Lass is laxative, and highly palatable. Cows relish it up at each feeding. For information on how Be-Co-Lass can get more mileage out of your roughage, help your cows make more milk.

Farmers Assn. To Tour D.C.

A delegation of five farm people from Lancaster County will be in the Nation's Capitol this month to meet with Congressman Paul B. Dague.

Under the sponsorship of The Pennsylvania Farmers' Association, the local group will join with the delegations from 40 other County Farmers Associations in the State.

Congressman Dague will be the guest of the local delegation at a dinner meeting in the Washington Hotel on the evening of March 7.

In announcing the Washington trip, County Farmers' Association President, J. Roy Greider said that the trip has a double barreled purpose.

1 "It gives farmers a chance to see how politics are played, and it shows us how politics affects our net income."

2 "It provides the Congressmen an opportunity to gain first-hand information as to how farmers feel about several legislative issues."

Those chosen to represent the Lancaster County Farmers' Association at the Washington meeting are Arno Reist, 1050 Eden Road, Lancaster; Herman Shirk, R.D. 2, Quarryville; H. Raymond Stoner, 1051 Eden Road, Lancaster, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Greider of Mount Joy R.D. 1.
