Seasonal Salads

(From page 7)

A salad dressing for a tossed fruit salad, made with peak-of-the-season summer fruits—

BUTTERMILK SALAD DRESSING

4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons dry mustard
3 tablespoons sugar
1½ cups buttermilk
2 eggs, beaten
1 tablespoon butter
2 tablespoons vinegar
¼-½ teaspoon basil
Mix dry ingredients together in a saucepan. Blend in a little buttermilk and stir until smooth. Add remaining buttermilk and eggs. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Do not boil. Remove from heat. Add butter, vinegar, and basil. Cool. Serve tossed with a fruit salad of apples, oranges, grapes, bananas and other fruit. Makes 2 cups.

A tangy dressing for a tossed vegetable salad—

SOUR CREAM-BLUE CHEESE DRESSING

½ cup crumbled Blue cheese
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
Few drops Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 cup dairy sour cream
Blend all ingredients except sour cream in a bowl, mixing well. Fold in sour cream. Chill thoroughly before tossing with salad greens. Makes 1½ cups.

Best Food Buys

Seasonal Vegetables Plentiful

July picnics and vacations help explain the popularity of outdoor eating, reports Tom Piper, Penn State Marketing Agent.

According to surveys some 15 million American families now own outdoor cookery equipment. Retail food store managers recognize the popularity of outdoor eating. This week they will feature round, T-bone and sirloin steaks in meat sales. Chicken will be featured by some stores but at slightly higher prices. Small turkeys and smoked picnic hams continue to hold bargain price tags.

Nature never takes a holiday. Large supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables are coming to market—bargains expand seasonally.

Salad greens, cabbage, cucumbers, onions, sweetcorn, and potatoes will be included in the list of bargains at the produce counter this week-end. Tomato prices are generally unchanged but promise to move down in the next couple of weeks when local production will reach the market. Washington Boro tomatoes promise to begin moving to market in some volume next week.

At the fruit counter, blueberries, bananas, apricots, & watermelons hold the good buy positions. Cantaloupe prices give promise of moving higher as harvest of the Arizona crop is about over.

Local raspberry harvest is at its peak this week. Homemakers who plan to can or freeze a supply of these fruits should place orders this week.
