

Lancaster Farming

Vol. 5, NO. 43

Lancaster, Pa., Saturday, September 17, 1960

$2 Per Year

Dairy Show Winners

GRAND CHAMPIONS OF THE SOLANCO DAIRY SHOW are left to right Ava Herr, Holtwood R1, with a Jersey; Richard Ankrum, Peach Bottom, with a Guernsey; R. Edwin Harnish, Christiana R1, with his Ayrshire, and Paul Welk, Strasburg R1, with his Holstein. Dairy Judging took place on Wednesday afternoon at the Southern Lancaster County Community Fairground at Quarryville. —L. F. PHOTO

Ankrum Brothers Win Solanco Dairy Honors

Richard and Donald Ankrum, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ankrum, Peach Bottom, made it one, two in the Guernsey judging at the Southern Lancaster County Community Fair on Wednesday when Richard showed a two-year-old cow to the grand championship over his brother Donald's three-year old.

Paul Welk, Strasburg R1, made it three in a row in the Holstein judging when his 3-year old cow won for him the third consecutive Holstein Grand Championship rosette at the show. He beat out the senior calf of C. Marjorie Murry, Drumore R1, a first year exhibitor at the fair.

FARM CALENDAR

- Sept 20 — 8 p.m. - Lincoln 4-H community club in the Mount Airy fire hall.
- Sept 21 — 8 p.m. - Hempfield 4-H community club in the Farmdale School.
- Sept 21 thru 24—Ephrata Fair.
- Sept 22 — 12 noon - Dedication of Lancaster Residence Hall at the Penna. State University.
- 12 noon - Second Animal Disease Conference at the New Bolton Center Laboratory of the University of Pennsylvania near Kennett Square.
- 7:30 p.m. - Judging of Beef Cattle at the Ephrata Fair.
- 8 p.m. - Penna. Secretary of Agriculture, Dr. Wm. Henning to address the County Agriculture Council in the Auditorium of the Farm Bureau Building, Dillerville Road, Lanc.
- 8 p.m. - New Providence 4-H community club meets in the New Providence school.
- Sept 23 — 1:30 p.m. Southeastern Dairy Herd Improvement Association supervisors conference at the Lancaster Poultry Center, Roseville Road and 230 By pass.
- Sept 28 - 30 — Lampeter community Fair, Lampeter.
- Sept 28 to Oct. 1 — New Holland Fair, New Holland

va Herr, Holtwood R1 repeated her performance of last year in winning the rosette in that breed competition. Runner up to the aged cow was the senior calf of Lucille Kreider, Drumore.

The six-year-old cow exhibited by R. Edwin Harnish of Christiana R1 took the Ayrshire crown over the junior yearling entry of Dale Kreider, Quarryville R1.

Marilyn Harnish, Quarryville was tapped by judge Rex E. Carter, county agent of Fayette County, as champion of the showmanship contest. Carol Ann Krantz, New Providence R1, was declared champion fitter.

Class placings were as follows: (Turn to page 6)

Secretary Henning To Speak At Agricultural Council Meet

Dr. William L. Henning, Pennsylvania State Secretary of Agriculture, will attempt to bring the agricultural leaders of the county up to date on recent farm legislation when he addresses a meeting of the Agriculture Council later this month.

Richard Green, chairman of the program committee of the council urges all council members to invite guest farmers and other interested in farming, to attend the regular quarterly meeting in the Farm Bureau Auditorium Dillerville road, Lancaster, on September 22.

After a short business session, scheduled to begin at 8:00 p.m., Dr. Henning will make his remarks concerning recent farm legislation and then invite questions on any subject members of the council wish to present.

Former Countian On PSU Staff

University Park, Penna.—A former Lancaster County resident, Simon K. Garber, has rejoined the Penn State agricultural extension staff, and on Sept. 7 began work as assistant Erie county agent. Dr. H. R. Albrecht, extension editor at the Pennsylvania State University since August 15, 1955, has been promoted to associate editor, Dr. H. R. Albrecht, director of agricultural and home economics extension at University Park, Pa. — Harold S. Fox, assistant extension editor at the Pennsylvania State University since August 15, 1955, has

SIMON K. GARBER

SCD Approved Plans For Six NewCooperators

The Directors of the Lancaster County Soil Conservation District approved the applications for conservation plans from six new cooperators at their meeting Monday night.

The total of new cooperators this year now stands at 112 as compared to the 98 new contracts last year to

Ayrshire Rosette Won By Ed Harnish

R. Edwin Harnish, Christiana R1 came back from defeat at the hands of his cousin Marilyn Harnish, Quarryville R2, when they competed earlier this month at the district 4-H show at the Guernsey pavilion, to win the state crown with his two year old Ayrshire cow.

Although Harnish was the only Lancaster County showman to bring home a grand championship rosette, eight other youthful exhibitors did finish in the win columns. Another Ayrshire, the junior yearling shown by Judy Ann Flory, Litz R2 was named reserve junior champion of the Pennsylvania Junior Dairy Show held Thursday in the Farm Show building, at Harrisburg.

Only one FFA entry, and the only Guernsey from the county placed when Ross Ferguson, Kirkwood R1 showed his senior calf to 4th place in her class.

In the Holstein 4-H competition, first places were won by Averril Royer, 2025 Oregon Pike with a senior calf and Harold J. Brubaker with a junior calf. Robert J. Dum a junior of East Petersburg, took a fourth place with his junior yearling.

In addition to the Harnish and Flory wins in Ayrshire judging, Florence M. Flory, Manheim R3, won a blue ribbon in the Senior yearling class while red ribbons were awarded to Gerald Lee Kreider for his senior calf, and Marilyn Harnish for her aged cow.

E'town Beef Rosette To Dauphin Co. Lad

Dauphin county entries took both the top spots in the baby beef show at Elizabethtown on Thursday.

The Angus entry of Harvey Gipe, the 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gipe, Senior, of Elizabethtown R2, won the nod of judge Robert Church, assistant County Agent of Northampton County, over the Hereford entry of Fern Brandt, Hershey R1.

Larry Brubaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brubaker, Mt. Joy R1, showed his trim Yorkshire to the top spot in the market hog judging. Billy Hackman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hackman, Elizabethtown R3, exhibited the reserve champion

(Turn to page 7)

Linton Takes Title At Solanco Beef Show

Casper, a 900 pound hereford steer from West Virginia waddled to the Grand Championship for his youthful master as the Solanco Fair went into its second day at Quarryville on Thursday.

Fred Linton Jr., Quarryville R2 exhibited his first championship, although he had shown the reserve champion Hereford at the State Farm Show earlier this year. Reserve Champion at Thursday's show was the chunky angus shown by Judy Ranck of Quarryville R2.

Earlier in the day, William Maule, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Maule won the Grand Championship female rosette in the swine judging with his senior Berkshire sow pig. The pig was shown by William's twin

(Turn to page 12)

County Native Gets Promotion

University Park, Pa. — Harold S. Fox, assistant extension editor at the Pennsylvania State University since August 15, 1955, has been promoted to associate editor, Dr. H. R. Albrecht, director of agricultural and home economics extension at University Park, Pa. — Harold S. Fox, assistant extension editor at the Pennsylvania State University since August 15, 1955, has

HAROLD S. FOX

FIVE - DAY WEATHER FORECAST

Saturday - Wednesday
Temperatures for the next five days will average 2 to 4 degrees above the normals of 76 to 56. Cool Saturday, warm Sunday, cool Monday with a rising trend by the middle of the week. Rainfall should total 1½ inches occurring as showers during the weekend and as more general rain about the middle of the week.

Rainfall for September thus far has been 7.42 ins. This is over twice the normal for the month and approaches the all time high of 9.83 inches for September set in 1934.