Gavin Grimes of Alliance Ohio picked up the grand championship in the female Spotted Poland China judging.

In six classes, judge Rex Whittmore of Burlington, Wisconsin, went to a Leininger entry for first place. In the other three classes, the Denver R2 entries finished in second place.

With the large number of high placings, Leininger built up a lead for the premier breeder's banner which he won last year in a close race with Clair Hartman of Gratz.

Later in the week when the carcass hog on-rail results were in, the Stuber entry became the first barrow in the history of the show to sweep both the on-foot and on-rail judging.

The Hampshire barrow, at an Allentown packing plant dressed out at 1421 pounds with a yield of 37.3 per cent ham and loin.

FABRIC SOFTENERS

Use a fabric softener in the water when you rinse garments of man-made fibers, suggests Thelma Baerl, Penn State extension clothing specialist. The softener will help to prevent the clinging of garments. When static electricity is eliminated, fabrics attract soil less readily.

The strong trend to heavier Nitrogen fertilization, coupled with the reduced use of lime over the past decade, is making soils more acid.

You

BE THE SOLE JUDGE!

The above are actual photographs of freshly broken out eggs. There are far too many eggs on the market today like the egg on the right. Note the excellent quality of the DeKalb egg on the left.

BREAK OUT ONE OR A DOZEN
AND SEE FOR YOURSELF

The Outstanding Quality of DEKALB EGGS

American housewives, those that really do the buying, are becoming more and more EGG QUALITY conscious. That's why the grocer, the egg buyer and the egg producer are NOW so VITALLY interested in EGG QUALITY. DeKalb invites ONE and ALL to break out one or a dozen DeKalb eggs on a comparable basis with others. DeKalb poultry researchers break out many thousands of eggs each year to determine which lines transmit the famous DeKalb quality. Big, snow white DeKalb Eggs with strong shells . . . big, rich, golden yolks centered in firm, lofty albumen, present a real picture of quality. Conduct your own egg "break-out" test. Break out one or a dozen DeKalb eggs on a comparable basis with a like number of other eggs. Compare in any and all ways. You alone be the judge.
