

Town & Country Business Club Is Organized

David Lapp, Bareville R1, was elected president of the newly-organized Town and Country Business Club Tuesday night.

Other officers elected were vice president Donald Musser, Mount Joy R1; secretary, Florence Mae Flory, Manheim R3 and Treasurer, Elvin Hess, Bareville R1. The new club, under the auspices of the Agricultural Extension Service and 4-H club workers, will study the functions of marketing agricultural products.

Adult leaders are Richard Lefever, Quarryville R1, Harold Mangle, Strasburg, Jack Owen, Editor of Lancaster Farming and Victor Plastow, associate County Agent.

Tom Piper, Extension Marketing Specialist for South Central Pennsylvania, was the main speaker at the organizational meeting.

A series of 10 more meetings and tours of county businesses is scheduled for the summer months.

● Harry S. Sloat

(From page 1) who can also see the big picture of Farm Management," he said.

Sloat came to Lancaster as Farm Management Specialist fresh out of Penn State. Six years later he became assistant county agent, and in '41 was made the first Associate County Agent in the state.

Roy B. Herr, veteran poultryman of Lancaster R7; David M. Landis, seed corn grower of Lancaster R6; David C. Witmer, poultry and general farmer of Mt. Joy, and Carl Schuldt, manager of Masonic Home Farms, of Elizabethtown were among these expressing their gratitude to Sloat for his aid and assistance through the years.

B Snavely Garber, on behalf of the extension association presented Sloat with a book of 78 testimonial letters from friends and associates.

Acting for the group in attendance, Levi Brubaker, presented a camera, projector and screen to Mr. and Mrs. Sloat. Photography has been one of Sloat's hobbies.

Mrs. Jane Nolt presented a purse of money to Mrs. Sloat from the Farm Women's societies of the county.

Other presentations were made by Pennsylvania Power and Light Co., The Lancaster County Floral Association, and The Pennsylvania County Agents Association.

Willis Z. Esbenshade was in charge of the meeting. Toastmaster was William H. Wilson.

Sloat said the future holds some relaxing, visiting friends, doing those things he never seemed to have time for before — and seeing some of the county. He said he and Mrs. Sloat plan to continue living in Lancaster County.
