AVOID MOWER
ACCIDENTS

Clear lawns of stones, wire, bones, and other objects before starting the power mower, cautions Ralph Patterson, Penn State extension safety specialist. He says hard objects such as these can fly out like bullets if hit by the mower, and they may injure or kill anyone they might strike.

CREEP FEEDING PAYS

Creep feeding of beef calves returns an average of two dollars for every dollar invested in feed, says Ben Morgan, Penn State extension livestock specialist.
Creep-fed calves weigh more at weaning time and are one grade higher in quality.
