To Delay Planting Temporary Forage Crops

Many livestock and dairy producers rely upon soybeans, sudangrass, or forage sorghums for summer pasture, hay, or silage crops All of these are warm weather crops and should not be seeded until mid-May (corn planting time). If seeded during periods of cold, wet weather, they will not germinate and the seeds may rot rather than sprout In all cases the seeds and the fertilizer should not come in contact with each other

You can't put house plants on a watering schedule Conditions in the home vary with the season and plants require different amounts of water depending on the temperature and humidity of the home

Research at Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station can not be expected to cut down on Japanese beetle populations. You will still need a spray program if the infestation is heavy
