Pans Affect Cake Quality

For best results with a cake mix cake, use the size pan recommended on the package, reminds Louise Hamilton, Penn State extension food specialist. For good heat distribution and even browning, use a mediumweight aluminum pan with a dull finish on the outside of the bottom. Prepare the pan according to directions given on the package.

Remove Milk Stain

Soak or sponge a milk stain with cold water before you try to remove it from a washable fabric, advises Mrs. Barton, Penn State extension clothing specialist. Then, using your fingers, rub a liquid detergent into the fabric.

Home Makers Demand Quality

Many fresh vegetables would find better consumer acceptance if they are handled more carefully and cooled and refrigerated adequately. That's one finding from recent marketing research done in the United States Department of Agriculture.

Because lettuce has no protection against bruising or water loss, it must be handled carefully and put in a cool atmosphere to keep it sound and fresh. All leafy green vegetables keep their attractive crispness longer under adequate refrigeration.

Another finding from the study was that bell peppers, an expensive item, showed more evidence of mishandling than most other vegetables. In some samples about forty percent of the peppers were bruised or otherwise injured.

Use Sterling Every Day

Sterling silver is a big investment and it shouldn't be something you use only occasionally or when company comes. When you use silver every day, you help it to develop a soft lovely finish, often referred to as patina (patina). Rotate silver so each
