About Molded Gelatin Desserts

Always follow directions on packages for dissolving the gelatin.

To decorate a mold, arrange pieces of fruit in the bottom and hold in place with one-fourth inch of gelatin, chill until set, then fill mold with gelatin mixture either plain or fruited. Chill until firm and ready to serve

To add fruits, chill prepared gelatin until thickened, but not set. Add up to two cups of well-drained fruit for each package of gelatin. Always use canned or cooked fresh pineapple. Raw fresh pineapple will prevent the gelatin from thickening and becoming firm. To unmold, loosen edges of desert with small pointed knife, then dip outside of the mold briefly in warm water, and shake gently after you take mold from water. Invert plate on top of mold and holding them firmly together, turn over. Shake gently, then lift off mold.

To serve, spoon into dessert dishes, or cut in cubes and fill sherbet glasses, or press through a coarse sieve to make gelatin jewels and fill serving dishes.

Propagation Course Offered

Propagation is gardening's fine art. Seeds, grafts and buds, cuttings and layers, separations and divisions become new plants. For more information about "Propagation of Plants" correspondence course, and other correspondence courses available, see your county agent.

"The Democratic candidates for the state legislature and the U.S. Congress from Lancaster County are the best group ever on the same ticket in any county in the United States"

This is the growing opinion of the voters throughout Lancaster County who have met John C. Pittenger, candidate for the state legislature from the City; Dr. Charles D. Spotts, Dr. William B. Gaynor and Edison W. Osborne, candidates for the state legislature from the County; and Dr. Richard C. Keller, candidate for Congress.

The six Democratic candidates have been conducting a door-to-door "Meet-the-Voter" campaign which has brought them into the homes of 50,000 Lancaster County voters in the last six weeks.

City assembly candidate John C. Pittenger is a former intelligence officer with the Central Intelligence Agency. A graduate of Harvard Law School, he is vice president of the Family and Children's Service and an active volunteer with the Lancaster Boys' Club. "Pitt" is a veteran of three years service with the U.S. Army.

Dr. Spotts

Dr. Charles D. Spotts, candidate for the General Assembly, is Chairman of the Department of Religion at Franklin and Marshall College. Long active in civic and church activities, Dr. Spotts is a former school board member of Lancaster City.

A resident of Smoketown, Dr. Spotts has deep roots in Lancaster County. He is a graduate of F and M and the Lancaster Theological Seminary. His first teaching job was in a one room school house in Brecknock Township.

A part time farmer, Dr. Spotts operates a ten acre beef and poultry farm in Smoketown as a hobby.

Dr. and Mrs. Spotts have two daughters and six grandchildren.

Dr. Gaynor

Dr. William B. Gaynor is the pathologist and Director of Laboratories at the Ephrata Community Hospital. As a youngster, he was a guest of the Masonic Home in Elizabethtown.

A resident of Manheim Township, Dr. Gaynor is a graduate of the Patton School, Franklin and Marshall College and Temple University Medical School. He was a combat infantryman during World War II, and served for six years with the United States Public Health Service.

Bill Gaynor is a member of the AMA and other related medical societies and of the Lancaster Lederkranz. As a candidate for the state legislature, Bill Gaynor feels that Lancaster County will benefit by having a physician's approach to current issues, especially the vital ones of health and welfare.

Ed Osborne

Edison W. Osborne is the third of the Lancaster County Democratic candidates for the Pennsylvania General Assembly. Ed is a veteran of fifty B-17 missions during World War II and is currently one of Lancaster County's most successful dairy farmers.

Ed Osborne is the president of the Lancaster County Jersey Cattle Club and the chairman of the "5,000 heifer project." He is a school director in Fulton Township and a member of the Scholastic and Curriculum Committee of the Solanco Joint School Board.

Ed and his wife, Shirley, live on their farm in Peach Bottom with their five children.

Marty Murphy

State Senate candidate, Martin J. Murphy, brings a businessman's approach to government. Marty Murphy is the manager of the Storage Division of the Lancaster Leaf Tobacco Company.

A resident of Lancaster Co., Marty Murphy studied business and commercial law at the University of Baltimore. He is an active member of B P O E Lodge 134, a member of the Lancaster Art Association, a former director and charter member of the Conestoga Serotoma Club and last year worked on the United Fund Campaign Drive.

An Air Force veteran, Marty was formerly in personnel work at the U.S. Naval Training Station in Newport, Rhode Island. He has two daughters, Sherl Ann, 7, and Brenda Lee, 2.

Dr. Keller

Democratic Congressional candidate Dr. Richard C. Keller is a teacher of American History and Government at Millersville State College. A native of Columbia borough, Dr. Keller is a graduate of Millersville State and received his doctorate at Columbia University.

No stranger to civic and county affairs, Dick Keller is the secretary of the Penn Manor Baseball League for Boys and a director of the Millersville Recreation Association. He and his wife, Frances, live in Millersville with their three sons, David 12, Brian 5, and Douglas 3.

A former Army Air Force glider pilot, Dick Keller says, "I'm running for this office because the 8th district (Lancaster and Chester Counties) has not had adequate representation."

Clark and Dilworth

The local candidates are proud to be campaigning with Richardson Dilworth, Democratic candidate for governor, and U.S. Senator Joseph S. Clark, up for reelection.

Richardson Dilworth, a fighting marine in two wars, rose in rank from private to colonel, was wounded twice in action and awarded the Purple Heart, Presidential Unit Citation and Silver Star. His dynamic record as mayor has brought national prominence to Philadelphia. Vigor, vision and vital concern for the problems of his fellow citizens have inspired Richardson Dilworth to devote the past 15 years of his life to good government. As past president of the American Municipal Association and the United States Conference of Mayors, Dilworth will be an outstanding governor.

Senator Joseph S. Clark has worked closely with Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy in their devotion to peace and disarmament under world law. He has been a vigorous supporter of health care for the elderly and is deeply interested in consumer protection. Senator Clark has also sparked the movement to end "swindle sheet" tax evasion. Joe Clark is a United States Senator of whom we can all be proud.

Vote for the Best Man

Voters all over Lancaster County are this year doing what they've always said they were going to do. They're voting for the best men. They're voting Democratic.
