

Conservationist Writes Thanks

Editor, Lancaster Farming
Dear Sir,

As you know, Jack, interesting our Lancaster County farmers in applying necessary soil and water conservation on their own farms continues to be our major objective.

The group approach, inviting 15 or more farmers in the same or nearby watersheds to an educational meeting, a watershed meeting, has proven to be the most effective way to get the job done.

It has not been too difficult to plan these meetings and plan a satisfactory program for the meeting. It is easy to drive through the area and pick out the farms where soil and water losses are quite evident. These farm operators are the ones we invite to the meetings.

The real tough job is getting our farmers out to the meetings. Your cooperation in publishing the dates of the meetings and outlining the planned programs has always been appreciated.

However, when three men attended our recent Penryn meeting as the result of no contract other than reading the story in your Lancaster Farming, and when one of the three became a cooperator with the district, I simply had to write and tell you about it.

Thanking you for this and the many other areas in which you have helped our conservation efforts, I am

Sincerely yours,
Amos H. Funk
Chairman,

Heberlein Quits As Ag Teacher At Solanco High

Herbert Heberlein has tendered his resignation as teacher of vocational agriculture at Solanco High School. He will terminate his duties as of February 15.

Ralph Bitler, former teacher of vocational agriculture presently teaching general science in the Solanco Junior High School has been appointed to fill the position until June 1, 1963.

Heberlein, who came to the school in 1959 plans to attend Millersville State College to complete work in guidance counselling.

Bitler, who taught vocational agriculture at Solanco from 1956 to 1960, has also taught Driver Education at the school. He farms in Eden Township in addition to his teaching duties.

Thomas Hamill, supervising principal at Solanco, said the board of education is looking for applicants for the position. "We are looking for the best possible man for the position, whether he be a beginning teacher or a man with some experience" he said

Feed Company Adds Personnel

Mr. John H. Herr has recently joined the sales force of D. E. Horn & Co, Inc, York, Penna, manufacturers and distributor of HORNCO feed in the states of Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Herr is a native of Lebanon County and has had broad experience in the agricultural field. He was born and raised on a highly successful Lebanon County farm.

JOHN H. HERR

Immediately prior to joining the HORNCO sales force he represented one of the area's leading leghorn chick hatcheries

He resides at Annville, and is presently, serving his training period in the York, Adams County area

Larry Corson

(Continued from Page 1)
his family to Conestoga RI where he will reside

He graduated from Penn State with a degree in Agriculture Economics in 1958, and was formerly assistant farm manager at the Allentown State Hospital.

His duties in the county will include drawing up plans for conservation practices on farms and assisting the farmer in laying out the plans on the farms.

He is married to the former Shirley Miller of Robertburg, Centre County. They have one son Dale Robert, 3 1/2 years old

Stocks of potatoes held by growers and local dealers in the fall-producing areas of the county totaled 139 000 million hundred-weight on December 11, 1962

OUR

CONGRATULATIONS For an Excellent Broiler Meat Production Record in 1962

TO

MR. & MRS. GUS EDRIS
of BETHEL, R. D. #1, PA.

Here is their outstanding record of 4 flocks marketed in 1962.

Gus and Mrs. Edris are well-experienced independent growers. Mrs. Edris checks her records with Glenn Herr, service representative from M & B.

Started	Sold	Age	Wt.	Conversion	# Sold	Condemnation (in lbs.)
1/23	3/27	8-6	3.86	2.27	7036*	138
4/24	6/27	9-1	3.60	2.20	6780	None
7/26	9/27	8-6	3.69	2.087	6755	None
10/9	12/10	8-6	3.78	2.033	6780	79

* Hatchery delivered higher percentage of extras than normal in this flock.
Total paid for 27,200 — Total Marketed 27,351

Good Management Makes Any Broiler Feed Perform Better Including Early Bird, of course. We are happy to recognize this outstanding record and it is gratifying to know it was made on Early Bird Broiler Feeds.

MAY WE HELP YOU? JUST CALL

Miller & Bushong, Inc.

ROHRERSTOWN, PA.

Ph. Lancaster 392-2145

(Area Code 717)

"FINEST POULTRY SERVICE ANYWHERE!"

See Another Important Message from M & B on Page 11