

4-H Leadership Training School Is Valuable Tool

By: Mrs. Edgar Porter,
4-H Leader

Every 4-H Club has volunteer leaders working closely with 4-H Club members and Extension personal. They help build leadership skills in Club Officers and members. They counsel on project activities and many of the personal problems of 4-H'ers.

The 4-H program needs adult volunteers capable of effective local leadership. We as leaders need training if we are to do the job well. Each year during the fall and spring months Leaders Forums are conducted at the National 4-H Foundation in Washington D. C. All adult leaders are welcome. Here is an opportunity for fellowship with other 4-H Leaders from our own state as well as several other states. There are many occasions to compare notes and swap ideas in buzz sessions, at meals or over a cup of coffee.

We attend and participate in session on: — "Understanding Young People", "Confidence in Leadership", "What is Democracy?", "How to Meet the Needs of Young People", "The Meaning of Citizenship", "How do I Lead a Group", and others. In the session on citizenship we were told that we must teach our young people to be good citizens in our club, community, state, country, and the world. In the session on "Confidence for Leadership" we were taught to get young people to have a philosophy of their own, that we can't teach a kid anything he doesn't want to learn, and we must discipline ourselves if we are going to discipline young people.

Leaders Forum participants see many of the nations inspiring monuments and view first hand the documents which have shaped our heritage. Tours include such points of interest as Capital Buildings, Supreme Court, (it was in session when I was there) Library of Congress, Washington

Lancaster Farming, Saturday, March 9, 1963—17

Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Jefferson Memorial, Tomb of the Unknowns, National Archives, The White House and others. This is more than sightseeing - it becomes a workshop in our national heritage as you see and live history in our Nation's Capital.

We had the opportunity to attend the International Farm Youth Exchangees Reception and meet young people from different parts of the world, and to meet the exchangees returning home from abroad. This in itself was quite a thrill. They are all bubbling over with enthusiasm about their adopted country.

All work and no play — That's not a Leaders Forum! There is a chance to sing, to learn new games, and to relax after a strenuous day. There is a Vesper Service to close each busy day.

Why don't you as a 4-H Leader attend a Leaders Forum at some future date? I know you will find it as worth while and interesting as I have.
