rients most likely to be low in a carried lunch.

Good To Know Anytime

A storage temperature of zero or lower is needed to keep the best quality in frozen foods. It costs 22 cents for a four and one-third ounce serving of canned pineapple; 26 cents for the same amount fresh; and 32 cents for the same amount frozen.

If you're thinking of buying a beef carcass to package for the freezer or locker plant, here's a quick guide to the amount of meat you'll get from it. One-fourth of the carcass will give you steaks; another fourth, roasts; and one-fourth, ground beef and stew meat. The final fourth is waste, such as bones and fat.

For a zippy bean salad, marinate canned green beans overnight in French dressing on onion rings, and a dash of sweet basil and dill. Serve in lettuce cups and garnish with sour cream and pimienta strips.

Add toasted slivered almonds to chicken gravy just before serving. The nuts give a distinctive flavor and texture to the gravy.

When You Need New Draperies

If you plan to make your own draperies, here are several ways to give them longer life. If using cotton, choose a washable fabric heavy enough to hang smoothly and evenly. When using a print fabric, choose a pattern that you can hang from top or bottom. Then you can reverse the draperies after each laundering and reduce the chance of sun-streaking.

This 'an That

The same cut of beef may be called a club steak, sirloin steak, sirloin strip steak, or Delmonico steak, depending on what part of the country you're in. More and more new names and cuts are appearing on meat counters as retailers look for ways to sell more meat.

Corn doesn't always mean corn. The word is used in some countries to mean the major cereal crop grown in the area. For example, in England, wheat is called corn; in other countries barley and oats are called corn.

Barley is one of the oldest grains — believed to have been grown in Egypt seventy centuries ago. The United States is the world's biggest producer of barley.

Hard Floor Covering

Marble, one of the harder, inorganic floor coverings, is an ancient and luxurious floor material, point out Penn State extension home management specialists. Chips of marble are used with cement to make terrazzo floors take long and hard use.

A 3½ ounce serving of cooked meat will provide 40 percent of the daily required protein intake of a grown man (and a higher percentage for women) while supplying only 8 percent of the daily calorie intake.
